Vandals mar Antioch election campaign

by MARY SULLIVAN
Lakeland Newspapers

Not long after campaign signs began to appear along the streets of Antioch, did vandals make their statements. About 30 signs belonging to the Unity Party sustained damage sometime during the night of March 3. The signs had been put up the day before.

According to Trustee Donald Amundsen, a member of the Unity Party slate, the majority of the vandalism occurred along a stretch of North Ave. and near Oakwood Knolls subdivision.

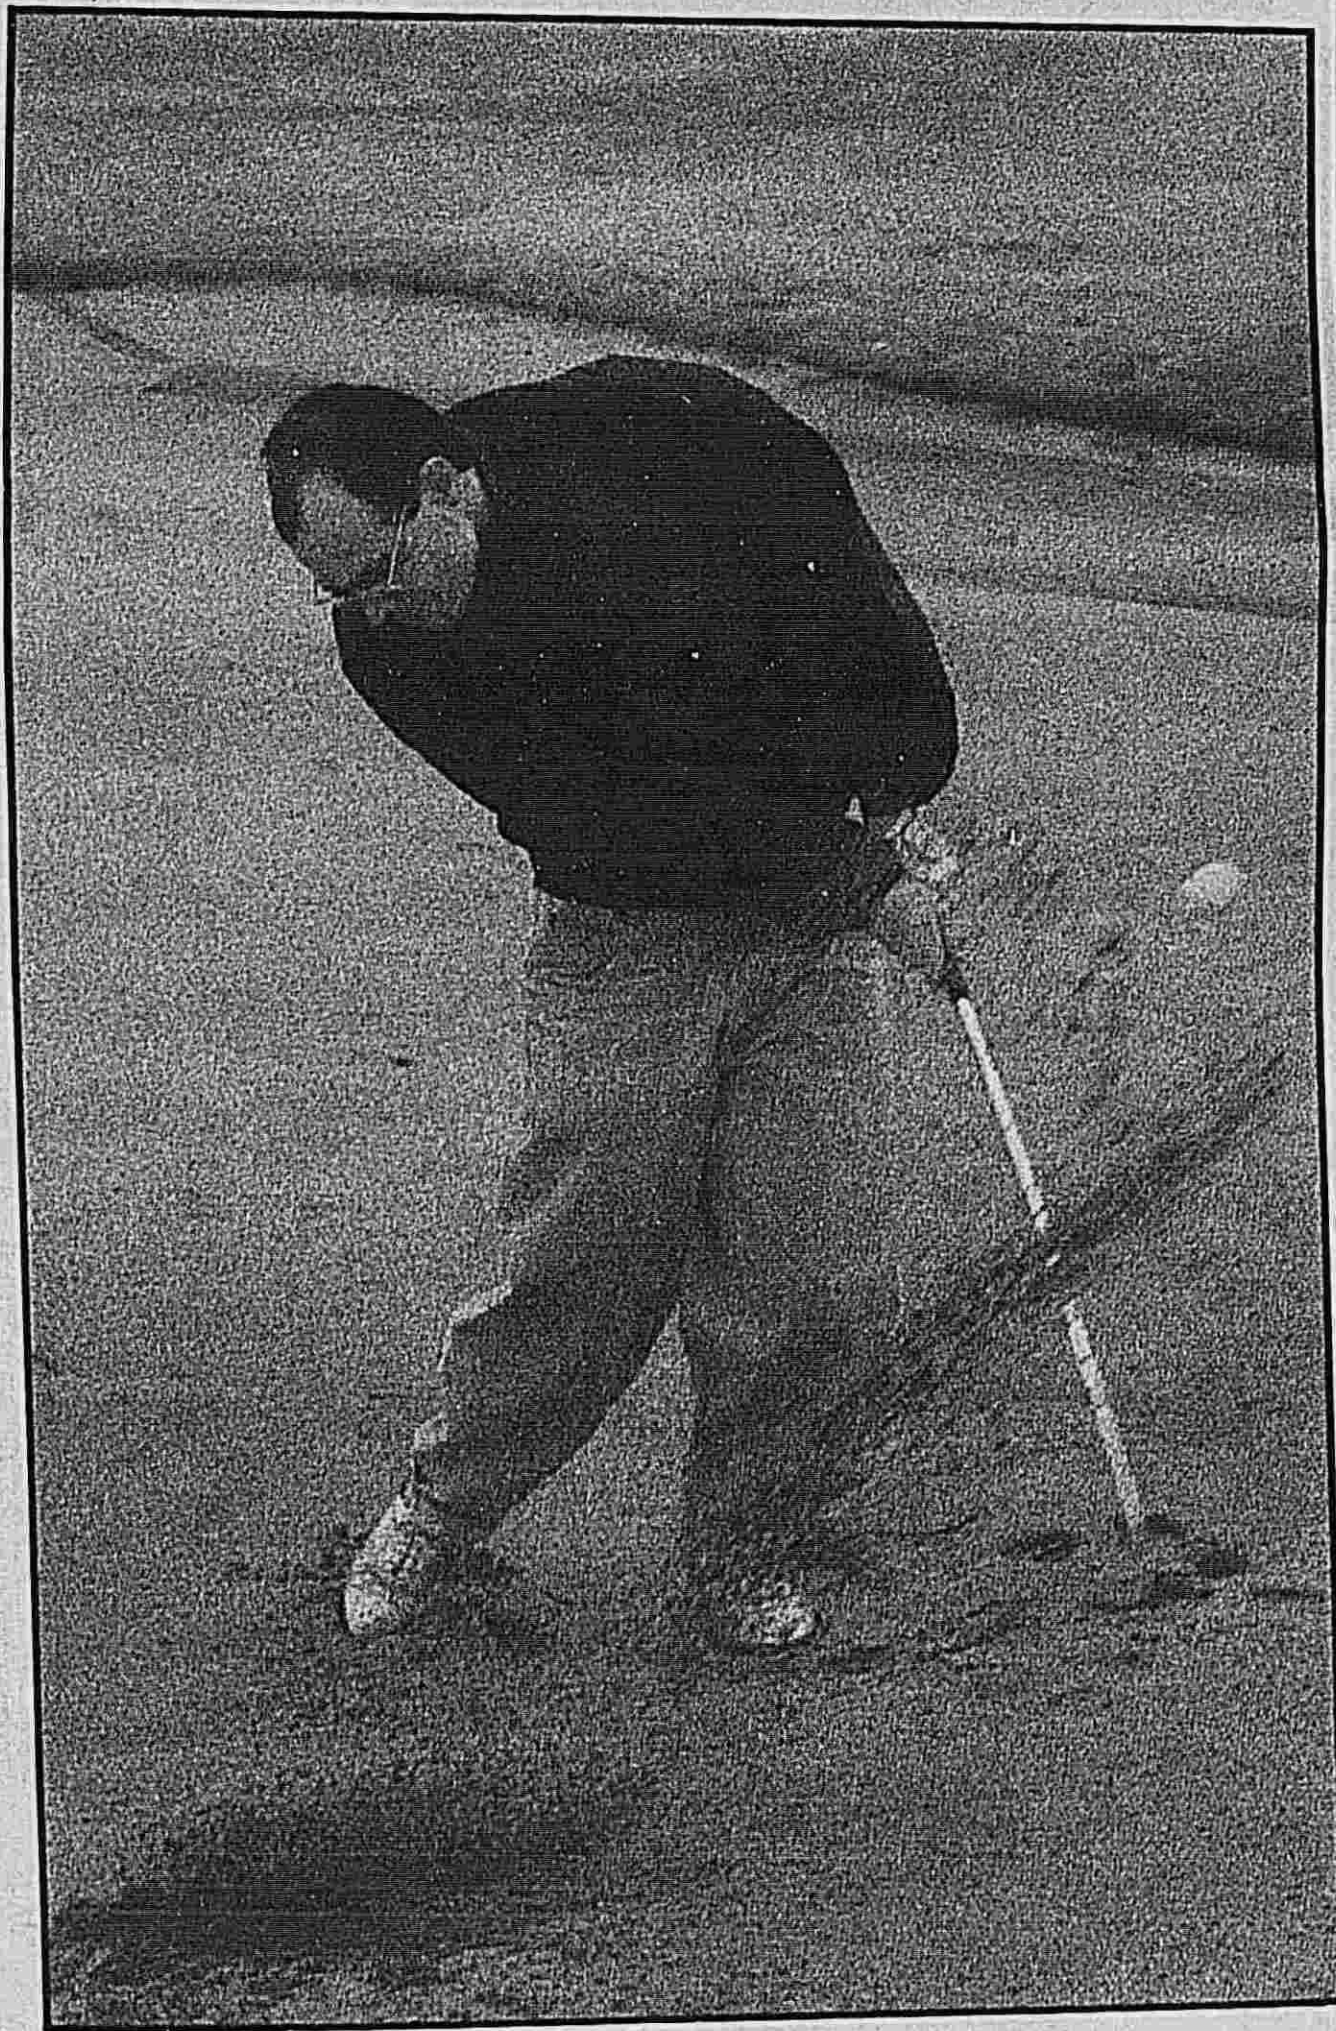

Damage was concentrated on signs bearing photographs of Unity Party candidates Amundsen, Mabel Lou Weber and Dorothy Larson. In some cases the heads of the candidates were ripped off of the photographs on the signs.

Vandals also struck the home of Antioch Police Chief Chuck Miller. In addition to a candidate sign being knocked over, garbage was strewn throughout the front yard and newspapers were stuffed into the exhaust pipes of his vehicles.

The incidents are believed to be politically rather than randomly motivated acts of vandalism.

The Unity Party is comprised of candidates who have taken a stand against Antioch Mayor Robert Wilton's attempts to oust Miller from his post.

Antioch warm welcome in plans for local heroes

A homecoming parade may traverse the flag-lined streets of Antioch as a warm welcome for the hometown heroes of Operation Desert Storm.

Antioch Mayor Robert Wilton is seeking the names and addresses of servicemen and women serving in the Persian Gulf who have ties to the Village and Township of Antioch. He is hoping to write to the parties in an effort organize a community welcoming ceremony or gesture.

Wilton is seeking to determine the number of local representatives in Desert Storm and when and how many will be returning to the village. The manner of recognizing these individuals will be reliant upon the timing of their arrivals.

Residents are encouraged to come up with ideas for showing continued support and welcoming home the veterans of the Persian Gulf War.

Any suggestions or names and addresses may be submitted to the Antioch Village Hall, 874 Main St.; 395-1000.

Neither rain nor sleet. . .

nor a cold, blustery March day will keep some people from their appointed rounds of golf. While there is already some scattered play, most area courses will officially open later this month. ## Lake County at a Glance

Election scapegoat

LIBERTYVILLE—Vernon Hills is being blamed for the 1,000 vote loss (3,129-2,126) of a $27.8 million building bond referendum in the February primary. The school board has challenged the village to develop figures for forming its own school district, which the board said will be costly. Vernon Hills only wanted the Libertyville board to consider building a second high school in that community, not form a new school district.

OK's deadline

GURNEE—Gurnee's new village hall may be close to the center of town, but it will have influences from Champaign, Libertyville and Elk Grove Village, among others. The village board has set April 9 for the opening of bids for the new village hall, to be constructed at North Ave. and O'Plaine Rd. Architect Robert Bleck of Bleck and Bleck of Waukegan updated the village board of the progress being made to date.

Impact fee pushed

MUNDELEIN—Efforts to get four elementary feeder school districts to join Mundelein High School in developing a uniform builder impact fee schedule have failed. Each district—Diamond Lake, Hawthorn, Mundelein, Fremont—said circumstances vary. Nevertheless, the high school board will ask the village board to codify the policy of asking that builders get signed impact fee agreements from developers before building permits are issued. Also being pushed is a $2,400 up-front impact fee—$1,200 for the elementary school, $1,200 for the high school—to pay education costs until the property goes on the tax rolls.

St. Pats dance set

GRANDWOOD PARK—The annual St. Patrick's Day Dance for the Grandwood Park Civic Assn. will be Saturday, March 9. The event will be held at Grandwood Park Civic Center, 36630 Hutchins Rd., Grandwood Park. Doors will open at 7 p.m. with music by the "Flares" from 8 to 11 p.m. Tickets are $5 per person. Those attending must be 21 to enter.

Army exercises

FOX LAKE—More than 200 Army Reservists with 40 vehicles will conduct field exercises Saturday and Sunday, March 9 and 10, with headquarters at Lake Region Post American Legion. They are members of the 327th Military Police Battalion located at Rosemont. Exercises will be conducted during daylight hours only.

Student dies

GAGES LAKE—Woodland Junior High School students and staff are in mourning this week after an eighth grader died while wrestling in a physical education class. Michael Hanlin, age 13, of Park City, died after wrestling March 1. Gurnee Fire Dept. paramedics tried to revive Hanlin as he was transported to St. Therese Medical Center. School was held as per schedule on Tuesday. There was no school Monday because of a holiday. Flags were flying at half-staff for three days this week in Hanlin's memory.

Eye business park

NORTH CHICAGO—North Chicago City Council members gave a green light for Sheridan Group Partners to pursue a purchase of land from the State of Illinois. The North Chicago Business Park is planned for the 160 acres on the south side of Rte. 137 between the Amco and Liquid Control plants.

Water tower bid

LAKE VILLA—The village's water tower should be operational by this fall. The village board of trustees awarded a bid to construct the tower to CBI Na-Con, Naperville, at a cost of $462,200. The contract and specifications will be reviewed by the village's engineer prior to the commencement of work.

The Victory Memorial Chemical Dependency Program

708-688-HELP

Three months ago, the quiet calm of Joan and Allen Mitchell's life was shattered when they discovered that their daughter, Stephanie, had a drug problem.

The signs had been there for months: falling grades, absenteeism, moodiness, lack of respect, lying and defensiveness. Yet, the signs went unheeded. Joan and Allen thought it was just adolescence, typical teenage problems. Unfortunately, they were wrong. It was something far more serious.

Stephanie had a drug problem. The first person to recognize it was one of Stephanie's teachers, who called the Mitchells and made them aware of her concern. Fortunately, they acted quickly and sought professional help.

They turned to the specialists at the Adolescent Chemical Dependency Program at Victory Memorial Hospital. Here, they found a comprehensive program that not only helped Stephanie with her problem, but helped them understand the role that they would play in maintaining Stephanie's continued health.

Today, Stephanie is her old self, back at school and doing well. The family is stronger, closer and able to weather almost anything.

Some stories do have happy endings, and many of them begin at Victory Memorial Hospital.

For complete information on our Chemical Dependency Program, or to confidentially discuss a problem confronting your family, call 708-688-HELP, anytime day or night.

Board grants $2,000 for downtown project

by MARY SULLIVAN
Lakeland Newspapers

A project to revitalize downtown Antioch received a $2,000 boost from the Village Board of Trustees. The donation from the Tax Incremental Financing (TIF) District funds will be used to set in motion a plan proposed by consultant Bert Stitt.

The organization of a centralized downtown management district was discussed at a meeting sponsored by the Antioch Chamber of Commerce, Feb. 27. Stitt, the featured speaker, has worked with more than 100 communities.

"He really knows the dynamics of downtown management," said Antioch public relations consultant Peg Ransom, "I don't know of anyone else who can claim this much experience in downtown revitalization."

Under the direction of Stitt, village residents, business owners and concerned citizens are entering into a process to identify the strengths and weaknesses of downtown Antioch, while finding a way to maintain or improve upon the positives.

According to Peg Ransom, public relations consultant for the village, the key to this approach is cooperative management of the downtown area.

"This is an approach in which the community takes responsibility for its downtown and manages in it," said Ransom.

To facilitate the establishment of such an entity, three committees are working toward a day-long retreat, a brainstorming session targeting the good and bad of the downtown area.

Participants at the retreat will break off work together in groups to prioritize their concerns and list possible solutions. However, their task will begin by discussing how and why a problem cannot be solved.

Ransom says that Stitt bills himself as a "coalition builder" which translates for Antioch into the implementation of a variety of subcommittees working toward a common goal.

"It's going to be fun to watch this happen, because nobody knows where its going to go," said Ransom.

Through the organization of a management structure, participants hope to go toward an improved and more attractive downtown with 100 percent occupancy.

While shopping centers and the like have served to usurp some of the business from downtown areas, Ransom says that a management team can operate to reclaim the customers and proprietors through an organized retail and merchandise promotions plan.

Additionally, the team can explore and implement ways to entice property owners to make improvements on the appearance of the buildings and motivate them to repair and refurbish, so the downtown looks attractive.

"The community knows how to do this, but Stitt helps to show them the way," added Ransom.

The committees are comprised of a diverse gathering of residents and business owners from throughout the village.

'This is an approach in which the community takes responsibility for its downtown and manages in it,'—Antioch public relations consultant Peg Ransom.

Exchange Club eyes referendum

The Exchange Club of Antioch is sponsoring an informational meeting for anyone in the community who would like to find out more about the high school referendum. On Tuesday, March 12, a representative of the Antioch Community High School Referendum Committee will explain the current and anticipated enrollment problems, possible alternatives and the benefits from choosing a referendum. A question and answer session will be offered. The meeting will be held at Struggles Restaurant from 7:15 to 8:15 a.m. Breakfast is available at various prices.

Candidates forum set for March 20

The Oakwood Knolls Property Owners Association will sponsor a "Candidates Night" at their next general membership meeting, Wednesday, March 20, 7 p.m. at the First National Bank of Antioch. All candidates for the office of village trustee will be invited to speak and answer questions. The meeting is open to the public.

Fox top athlete

Tim Fox has been selected as the Athlete of the Week for his performance in basketball. The sponsor of the program is the state Bank of Antioch who contributes $100 each week to the Parent/Teacher Scholarship Fund of Antioch High School in the name of the athlete. Congratulating Fox (left) are Marcia King of the State Bank and Coach Jeff Dresser.

Antioch cops' hearings get March dates

Dates have been set by the Antioch Police and Fire Commission for the disciplinary hearings of two Antioch police officers.

The process is precipitated by charges filed by Police Chief Chuck Miller against Lt. Tom Fisher and Officer Michael Culat.

Fisher's hearing is scheduled for Thursday, March 14. Culat's hearing is set for Tuesday, March 19.

The officers are charged with conduct unbecoming to an officer, however, Miller declined to discuss specific details of the case. Included in the chief's case are video tapes from 24-hour surveillance cameras placed inside the station by Illinois State Police.

Miller indicated that he will seek dismissal of both officers.

Youth steals home with $1,950 in baseball cards

A 16-year old Trevor youth was called out on charges of taking nearly $2,000 worth of baseball cards from the Comics & Cards Collection Shop, 552 Main St., Antioch.

According to Cpl. Ron Roth of the Antioch Police Dept., the youth was tagged after a passer-by had noticed that the shop had been broken into, Feb. 21.

After getting a good jump on police, the youth was apprehended at his Trevor home with the cards in his possession. He will face burglary charges before a Lake County Juvenile Court.

Roth says that cards valued at $1,950 were recovered and another $700 worth were still missing.

Rookie cards featuring Chicago Bears' superstar Walter Payton and fastball pitcher Nolan Ryan were among the cards recovered.

Our mission is to provide a quality education in a secure, creative environment which fosters respect, responsibility and development of the students, staff and community. The committee would like input from all who are involved with the school about this statement and its implications.

This is only the start of our planning process, not the final product. From here, we are forming Action Teams to look into various aspects of school functions. These teams, after study and input, will make recommendations to the steering committee. The committee, after review and editing will bring recommendations to the board of education for consideration.

The action teams will look into the following areas: curriculum, communications, physical plant, and climate.

Hodowells celebrate 68 years of marriage

by MARY SULLIVAN
Lakeland Newspapers

They say there's no secret to their success. If there was, fewer marriages would be temporary, more lawyers would be upset and Frank and Alice Hodowell, Antioch, would be millionaires. In marking their anniversary Feb. 17, the couple has shared the richness of 68 years as husband and wife.

So how does an avowed "loner" manage to get along with his wife for 68 years? Simple, by not getting along. There's nothing like a good argument to secure the marriage bond, says the happy couple.

"You just gotta try to make it," said Alice, "you have your ups and downs and you fight, naturally."

Of course, the rifts are of the good-natured, everyday variety and only one factor in the longevity of the union.

Frank, 91, and Alice, 86, attribute much of the staying power to a very different set of society norms between the 1920s and 1991.

"What they should put in the marriage vows today isn't 'until death do us part', but 'until divorce do us part,'" said Alice.

The Hodowells' duet began in Chicago in 1923. A Lake County farmer, Frank fell for the girl next door, well, across the street from his uncle's South Side home.

Their wedding day was shared by Alice's sister and her betrothed in two single ceremonies. Each couple stood up for each other.

The crowd at the altar of St. Michael's Church, was nearly diminished by one thanks to "the biggest blizzard that ever hit Illinois."

For Frank, the journey from his Lake County home to wedded bliss spanned about seven hours through a blinding snowstorm and drifts of six-to-eight in depth.

"I was mad that I should hit a day like that, so I plugged along," he said.

His persistence paid off with a mutual and lasting commitment. However, the marriage was not always bound by togetherness.

With a scarcity of jobs and lack of government assistance programs, the couple worked various jobs in Chicago. In 1929, they moved to Wisconsin, where Frank worked at Passiondale Farm. The property is now the site of Benet Lake, which he helped build.

During World War II, Alice worked in a Chicago defense plant, while her husband braved the cold and primitive environment of Alaska.

Thousands of miles separated the couple, while Frank toiled on the Alaska highway for about six years. Women were not permitted to join their husbands.

When the couple was reunited they settled on a farm in Auburn, Ill. and then in Edgar, Wis. They moved to Antioch in 1965.

After nearly 70 years of togetherness, the Hodowells shy away from questions like, 'if you had to do it all over again would you do it differently.' However, they do have some advice for couples thinking about tying the knot.

The Hodowells think that the divorce rate would drop if couples were to spend six months living with his or her prospective in-laws. Living in the household in which their finance had been raised could offer invaluable insight and really help people get to know what each other is really about.

labels removed. Also keep saving your aluminum cans and bring them to the center. Any monies earned from items received at the recycling center goes into a community development fund. At the present time, the Parks and Recreation Dept. will utilize the monies to improve the area playgrounds by purchasing new playground equipment. The center is open only on Saturdays from 9 a.m. to noon and volunteers are needed to help sort and store the items. If you can volunteer (even one Saturday a month), please help our Antioch Community with this endeavor.

Remember if you volunteer a mere three hours each month, at the center, that would make you eligible to participate in the "Share Food Program" sponsored by the Antioch Exchange Club. For $15 a month, you can receive $35 to $40 worth of assorted grocery items. For more information on the recycling center, contact the Parks Dept. at (708)395-2160. For more information concerning the "Share Food Program" contact Claudette Skvarce.

Well-Behaved Dogs

Youths and their dogs are invited to participate in the Lake County 4-H Dog Training classes beginning in April. Youths between eight and 19 years of age are eligible, even if you are not a current 4-H member. It is a 12 week course offered from the Univ. of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service and it is free of charge. The classes are either on Monday or Wednesday evenings, depending on experience levels, from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m., at the Lake County Fairgrounds. The orientation meeting is at the extension auditorium on April 1. Do not bring your dogs to the orientation. Dogs should be at least six months old and must have been inoculated for rabies and DHL, proof of inoculation is required. To register for these classes call (708)223-8629.

Practicing Is Fun

According to Clara Halting, "The String Alongs" not only have fun performing at their various engagements, they also turn their practices into a fun jam session. After a recent practice held at Charlie's Place, the "String Alongs" put down their instruments and danced and sang to the melodies on the jukebox. They also enjoyed snacking on the various delicious goodies brought by the members of the group. Afterwards they watched a video tape of one of their recent performances.

Oakland School

Oakland School is always in the process of adding new reading material to their library. Parents have an opportunity to donate a book to the library in honor of their child's birthday. If you would like to do this, contact Oakland School for further information.

Letter to the Editor

For new school

Editor:
As a member of a board of education, I am committed to providing our children with a quality education, one that will prepare them for their future roles as productive citizens and future leaders. Because of this commitment, I will be voting in favor of the Antioch High School referendum on April 2.

Dist. 117 board of education is faced with the problem of needing additional space to meet student needs or watch the quality of education in their district deteriorate. After careful study and deliberation, it was decided that the needs of Dist. 117 students would be best met by the construction of a new high school. This was a difficult decision as it requires substantial additional financial commitment from the community. Yet is the duty of a board of education to recommend what is best for the education of the students in its district. Building a new high school will best serve the educational needs of Dist. 117 students.

Today our students face a greater variety of challenges and opportunities than ever before. For some, high school is the last place to receive the knowledge, skills, and career development necessary for a productive adult life. For others, it is a preparation ground of academic development necessary for the advancement to higher education. Whatever the road taken, students today need a larger variety of services and academic course offerings than ever before. The present Antioch High School simply does not have the space to provide this. Increased enrollment projections only add to this problem. Additional lab space, vocational/technical facilities and classrooms, as well as care facilities, are needed to meet the needs of students. Without it, we will soon find the quality of our curriculum declining at a time when it needs to be expanding. As a taxpayer in the district I am well aware of what it will cost. I believe it is money well spent for an investment in our students today is also an investment in our future tomorrow.

A new community high school would increase the value of and pride in our community. More importantly, as new high school is necessary to prepare our youth for the future and that future affects all of us. Help make it a good one by considering a yes vote on April 2. Keep education strong in our community.

Axton attends bank conference

Ted C. Axton, President at the First National Bank of Antioch, was among bankers from throughout Illinois who traveled to Washington for the 1991 Illinois Bankers Association (IBA) Washington Conference.

The three-day conference included meetings politicians, high ranking banking officials and representatives of regulatory agencies and banking associations.

Throughout the conference, Axton and his associates pointed out the impressive record of Illinois banks for being strong and well-capitalized. They urged members of Congress to enact legislation permitting banks to be more competitive, to reduce the compliance burdens under which banks must operate, and to address the long-term issue of deposit insurance reform.

When asked his reaction to the U.S. Treasury proposals for deposit insurance and banking reforms which were presented to the IBA group by representatives of the treasury, Axton said "We do not know what kind of legislative action will come from these proposals. The bad news is that some banks are having difficulties and will have to seek assistance from or be taken over by the FDIC. The good news is that we are a strong and profitable community-oriented bank as further evidenced by the fact that we are about to move our Gurnee branch facility into its new building on Grand Ave. just west of Hunt Club Road."

Give composting a try

Getting rid of yard waste and grass clippings is no simple matter. But Waste Management Inc. has a workable plan and is willing to try if Lake County officials and citizens are willing to cooperate.

That's the rub. So far the Waste Management plan to designate a 12 acre site on Rte. 83 north of Peterson Rd. in the vicinity of the ARF Corp. landfill has run into a blizzard of public opposition despite a recommendation from the Lake County Zoning Board of Appeals that a conditional-use permit be granted. The proposition now goes before the County Board Planning and Zoning Committee. If the committee approves issuance of a permit, the request will go before the full board April 9.

Appeals board members didn't exactly reach their decision in haste. They held eight hearings on the Waste Management petition, taking testimony from the 50 to 100 persons per meeting who turned out for the hearings. In paving the way for Waste Management, the board set down 24 restrictions.

Most of the opposition has come from Libertyville residents, although there are Grayslake and Mundelein residential neighborhoods nearby. Opposition centers on odor, threat to underground water supplies and the rather nebulous argument that the big waste disposal conglomerate "can't be trusted."

The composting plan is a reaction to the state mandate that grass clippings no longer can be disposed of in landfills. In view of the success so far of the pilot composting project at Lakewood Forest Preserve, we think Waste Management ought to be given the opportunity to show that the messy and smelly grass clippings can be disposed without odor or threat to the environment when handled properly. The 24 restrictions are ample safeguards. The case for issuing a conditional permit is aided by the fact if denied, the disposal firm can revert to "land treatment" disposal of grass clippings, merely spreading the debris on the ground and plowing it under. There also would be a limit of a maximum of 600 cubic-feet per day. An interesting sidelight is the fact that Waste Management has an Illinois Environmental Protection Agency permit for composting.

If asking householders to refrain from collecting grass clippings and let nature take its course is too much, then the job has to be turned over to experts---like Waste Management.

War an interlude in ongoing battle to uplift America

by BILL SCHROEDER

We did it!

Valiant young American men and women in uniform, led with conviction by brilliant, sensitive military strategists, crushed a dangerous despot in an explosive part of the world with the cooperation and support of friendly allies.

That scenario, now a reality after a short war in the Persian Gulf, was drawn at the conclusion of World War II when the U.S. possessed military might unequalled anywhere else on earth. The theory and hope that gave birth to the United Nations was that peace loving nations cannot condone or appease aggression. The forces for good would have to band together to stamp out outbreaks of evil wherever and whenever they surfaced.

U.S. military forces with unprecedented civilian support entered a hostile environment thousands of miles from home committed to fulfill a mission to drive out a military dictator who had taken over a peaceful, defenseless neighbor. Confronting the unknown, our armed forces counted on support from home to sustain their efforts. They got that support. There is no doubt that America's backing of political and military leaders in the fighting against Iraq made a significant difference.

President Bush was chided good-naturedly for not outwardly expressing the euphoria that overcame so many with the ending of the shooting and killing. The President undoubtedly was sobered by the thought that making peace is much more difficult than making war, particularly with the might and technology now possessed by the United States. Short as the war was, President Bush also is well aware that the campaign against Saddam Hussein only was an interlude in a bigger battle on the home front where the enemy, instead of being a crazed Middle Eastern dictator, is a sagging economy burdened by a multitude of domestic problems.

The President unleashed America's military might by not tying the hands of field commanders. With patriotism running high, let us pray that homefront problems can be attacked with the same fervor.

Message is clear

Editor:

The resounding defeat of the building and bond referendum of Libertyville High School Dist. 128 is a loud and clear message for the community and all tax bodies, "No New Property Taxes!"

I-RATE, in a very brief period from December 1990 to Feb. 16, was able to reduce the LHS project from $33.8 million to $22.5 million with an additional dividend to the taxpayer for the potential land sale that could have reduced the tax impact an additional $3, 4 or 5 million. Obviously, the voter saw this and may have questioned that if so much could be saved so fast, maybe the board has not done its job.

I-RATE is puzzled by the defeat by maybe the community is more I-RATE than I-RATE? The single best explanation for the defeat is undoubtedly the scope, size and resulting tax impact.

I-RATE cautions the board to avoid the inferred alternatives of less programs, longer days, etc. We encourage the board to look for better utilization of the school facility and management of tax resources.

Pay up old debts

Editor:

Even those of us who are "empty nesters" should vote yes for the Dist. 95 referendum. Please consider the facts.

The cost to educate an individual student in Dist. 95 this year is approximately $4,300. The estimated portion of a yearly real estate tax bill on a home with a market value of $150,000 which is paid to the school district is $2,389. Most of us did not cover the cost to education one child, much less two or three children, with the taxes that we paid while our children attended Dist. 95. Even if our students have now graduated from college, our taxes to Dist. 95 are still paying the bill incurred by our own children.

Excellent schools are everyone's concern! Many of us have made a substantial investment in this community by purchasing our homes. The appearance of mobile classrooms clearly is a detriment to property values. Prospective home buyers are concerned with quality schools, and they take the time to familiarize themselves with the local school system before they buy.

Mayor continual meddler

Editor:

You seem to have abandoned standards in your editorial titled "Solving Bitter Battle" concerning the mayor/police chief controversy in Antioch.

You stated in your second paragraph that the mayor "clearly has statutory authority on his side" and the Chief Miller and his supporters are "hurling law suits in all directions to sustain their point of view." This is simply untrue.

The mayor does not by statute have authority to meddle in the day to day operations of the police department nor order personnel changes which he has done. He had no right to attempt to fire the chief without ever bringing formal charges against him and without even having a quorum at the village board meeting. He claims he had that right and you believe him. The mayor had been advised that his action was illegal by Ken Clark, the village attorney, but the chief had to bring legal action in order to save his job.

The only other court action initiated by the chief concerned disciplinary action brought by the chief against three members of the police department, asking for penalties up to and including dismissal-serious charges. The hearings to determine guilt or innocence and if guilty to determine punishment are held, in the case of the two sworn police officers, by the Antioch Police and Fire Commission, and in the case of the dispatcher by the Village Board of Trustees. The mayor in order to protect these individuals from due process, and I believe to hide his involvement in this mess, took action to prevent these hearings which are called for under state law and local ordinances. He issued three memos the first of which PREPARED---Few candidates in the April 2 village elections will be better prepared on the issues than Mark Ratfelders, 35, who is running for a council seat in Gurnee. Ratfelders analyzed every 1990 village board vote---all 540 of them---as part of his preparation. Vice president for a financial services company, Ratfelders said his campaign will focus on providing more debate, representation and responsiveness. The present board is a "rubber stamp," in Ratfelders' opinion.

OVERSEAS VIEW---Troops in the Persian Gulf appreciate the support they've been getting on the home front, according to Marine Cpl. Lee Sherwood, 23. War protesters in Iraq are gunned down by the government, Sherwood wrote his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Al Sherwood of Round Lake Park.

Sherwood observed that he and his fellow Leathernecks are concerned that when things are settled in the Middle East, China or Russian might turn out to be trouble spots. Who's next? he wondered.

Written before land warfare was initiated, Sherwood predicted that "Iraq is going to get slaughtered. I feel sorry for the men in that army." He said he was aware of one Iraq POW who crawled through his own minefield to get away. He reported that some Iraqi surrender attempts were thwarted by Saddam's Death Squads.

Sherwood is with a construction unit near the frontlines. He has been a Marine five years.

Politically Speaking

by JOSEPH SOULAK
Lakeland Newspaper

GEARY FETE—Now-retired Norman Geary, Avon Twp. supervisor for 26-plus years, member of the Lake County Board and its chairman for two terms, got his just desserts.

It was impromptu tribute at Brae Loch Country Club near Grayslake last Saturday. More than 300 showed up.

They ranged from former County Board colleagues F.T. "Mike" Graham and John Balen to State's Atty. Mike Waller and County Clerk Linda Hess. State Rep. John Matijevich (D-North Chicago) was there. So was state Rep. Grace Mary Stern (D-Highland Park). She introduced a resolution in the Illinois House this week commending Geary. Even Geary's old mailman made it to the party.

Some of the ticket money bought Geary a 1990 season pass to all Forest Preserve golf courses. This spring a tree will be planted in his name at Brae Loch.

Geary, he was relaxed and pleased. Retirement has almost made a new man of him.

APPRENTICE POLITICIAN

Back in the political limelight is Melinda Willen. She is the unsuccessful candidate for Grayslake mayor in 1989.

This election she is running for village trustee. Why?

"I've found out I probably have to start at the bottom," she said about her candidacy.

Can it be called a political apprenticeship?

PARKING PERK—H a s Mundelein Mayor Marilyn Sindles got a new perk?

More and more frequently a white, unmarked late-model Chevrolet with a municipal license plate is showing up in her parking place at the village hall. She has been spotted driving it on more than one occasion.

"That's because her husband took the other car and I let her use mine," Administrator Kenneth Marabella said.

The mayor of Mundelein doesn't get a village car. That was tried several years ago without village board approval. Mayor Maurice Noll had an old police car at his disposal for awhile.

As for the mayor's parking place next to the front door at the Mundelein village hall, it is unmarked. Last year, which the parking lot was restriped, an attempt was made to designate one space for the mayor and one for the administrator. That didn't fly.

Marked or not, the mayor and everyone else knows which space is for her car, with or without municipal plates.

SELLING POLITICIANS—Jack Martin of the Libertyville Saddle Shop says selling political candidates to voters is a little like selling saddles and cowboy hats.

He was quoted to this effect in the Chicago Tribune regarding his financial backing of pro-growth candidates in last spring's County Board races. One of those he is closely identified with is County Board Chairman Robert Depke.

How did Depke and other Martin choices win?

"At the Libertyville Saddle Shop we sell people things they don't need at a very expensive price," he said. "We applied these principles to (last spring's) political campaigns."

NAKED TRUTH—Things aren't dull in the Great Island Lake Trustee Race. One candidate, Fred Bigham, is challenging the election petition of two incumbents. And one of those, Georgine S. Cooper, is writing letters to the editor.

"....the first time I met Mayor Charles Amrich I was naked from the waist up with a bottle in my mouth," she penned. "I had been drinking so much I wet my pants."

She said her mother will verify this story.

Amrich was four at the time and visiting with his father. Cooper had just been born a few hours before.

Why relate what she calls an "amusing, irrelevant anecdote?"

Because people can't believe everything they hear, she said, about half truths instead of the naked truth that always surfaces at election time.

Letters

declared that punishment for the three police department employees would be a one hour suspension without pay and absolve them of further punishment.

When this was thwarted by the village board he sent a second memo reprimanding the three and calling for no further action and finally he sent a memo to Chief Miller ordering him to drop all charges against the three. The chief in order to stop this interference went to court to enforce the earlier court order against meddling by the mayor and to cause the hearings to proceed. Finally the mayor backed down and rescinded his memos. These actions by the mayor were illegal, insulting to the members of the police and fire commission, who by the way he appointed, and insulting to the intelligence of the citizens of Antioch.

Your closing paragraph seems to encourage the citizens of Antioch to elect village trustees on April 2 who will go along with Mayor Wilton no matter how hateful, obsessed or irrational his actions might be.

Donald H. Amundsen, Trustee
Village of Antioch

Editor's note: Mr. Amundsen missed the print of the editorial that the people will provide direction for an outcome by virtue of the way they vote.

Build for excellence

Editor:

Fremont School Dist. 79 will have a building referendum on the ballot again in April. It will be defeated again for the simple reason that the parents of Fremont's children are not interested enough in what is being done for their kids to attend the board meetings and listen.

Since the mid 20's we have had excellent and dedicated teachers in this district: Nell Traut, Jo Ulrich, Bertha Wirtz, Amber Grabbe Snyder, Margaret Obenauf, to name a few, and I'm sure there have been many more. Recently there was a strategic planning committee formed to evaluate and try to improve the quality of the education at Fremont School. I was asked to serve on this committee. To say the least, I received quite an education. Included in the committee were at least eight teachers, four members of the board, the school superintendent and the school business manager. We were in session four hours on Friday, all day Saturday and Sunday, from 8 to 5 p.m. and we were still there at 6 p.m. on Sunday. There was no grumbling about the time used.

People asked serious questions and got answers. We ended up with some ideas on how to improve, but how can you improve on excellence? But still there is the problem of overcrowding and the need for more classes that are not available now. The need for more room is now. The building will cost more in two or three years than at the present time. Defeat the referendum now and by 1995/96, the need will still be there, the cost will have risen to $6 million or $7 million, and the tax increase will be considerably more. Vote yeas on the referendum! I am a senior citizen with no kids to be educated.

House cleaning necessary

Editor:

The school board of Dist. 118 is at it again! I'll bet you forgot all about the referendum for a new school in Fox River Shores. Well, that's just what the school board is hoping.

The voters spoke out clearly against the referendum at the last election in November. Now the referendum is being slipped in, in a small election on April 2. They are hoping for a small turnout of voters since Island Lake and Wauconda have no other reason to get out and vote.

I urge you to spread the word and send a message to the board that we will not stand another increase in our taxes. After the handling of the sale of the old Island Lake School, other school property, and the recent teacher's strike, I feel that it is time for changes on the board.

Pay close attention to those whose names are on the ballot the next time the board members are up for reelection. Let's do some "house cleaning." We'll start with the board, then work our way up!

Irritated by mailing shopping

Editor:

Gloria Davis' article in the December, 1990 issue bemoaning the lack of personal service and attention granted Christmas shoppers in the malls and larger department stores surely struck a resonant chord in most of us as we recovered from the hectic shopping season. It is indeed a challenge to navigate and negotiate our way through these meccas of the 90's.

However, her resolve to shop next year via the catalogs and mail services really irritated me. All she has to do to find Christmas carols playing from loud speakers, and friendly shopkeepers ready to assist her is to visit downtown Antioch, or any other community served by this paper.

The hundreds of independent retailers in Lake and Kenosha Counties offer competitive prices, personalized service, friendly good wishes, and top quality merchandise not only during the holidays, but all throughout the year.

I might add, too, that your newspaper is happy to take the thousands of dollars that these merchants spend every year on advertising in your paper. As a matter of fact, I'd be willing to wager that without us, you wouldn't be around next Christmas.

Mismanaging taxes

Editor:

I find it rather ironic (or shall I say idiotic) that the superintendent's pay is $84,000 plus benefits and the business manager's salary is $61,000 plus benefits yet there's not enough money to educate our children! For those who might argue you have to pay good money to attract good people, I think that's been proved to be an "old wives tale" in this case. As if paying a superintendent to do an inadequate job isn't bad enough, we're also paying a business manager to tell us we're broke!

I recall when our present superintendent was hired he was praised as a financial wizard who's management skills were sure to turn the districts shaky financial situation around. All he's succeeded in turning around is the taxpayers of Dist. 118 until we're dizzy, from guessing what next years classes will be and from poor management of our tax dollars!

I've had three children go through the school system and paid thousands of dollars in taxes in the last 20 years. The education my children received was due to the individual efforts of some great teachers who obviously cared a great deal for their students and for that I will always be grateful. I will, however, always be disgusted by the fact that our present superintendent has made so little sense with the taxpayers dollars and cents.

I support the upcoming referendum because our district desperately needs a new elementary school to meet the growing student enrollment but the superintendent and board have left a very sour taste in every taxpayers mouth through the mismanagement of previous tax increases. It's unfortunate that so many taxpayers are convinced that the upcoming referendum is yet another lemon.

We don't need to find new ways to toy with our children's education by eliminating classes, we need to find a new superintendent.

A pinched nerve in the front of the foot, usually between the third and fourth toes, can be a torment. Because the problem is deep in the foot, there is usually no visible sign. There are however a number of clues that lead to a diagnosis of a neuroma.

1. Burning in the ball of the foot.
2. The feeling of walking on a stone or marble.
3. Numbness or tingling in the affected toes.
4. A sudden sharp pain in the forefoot that makes one want to remove the shoe and rub the foot.

McAllister finds goal-setting 'in the cards'

by CLAUDIA M. LENART
Lakeland Newspapers

"It is April, 1992 and Pat and I are preparing for a three-week vacation to Scotland and Spain with visits to other European countries." That affirmation is written on one of a stack of cards which Spencer McAllister reads daily.

Another card reads "It is April, 1993, MLCI is among the top 10 LMI franchises in the USA."

Spencer McAllister is the president of McAllister Leadership Concepts Inc. (MLCI), one of 4,000 Leadership Management Inc. (LMI) franchises nationwide which teach business people how to manage their time more effectively and efficiently through goal-setting and other techniques.

Turning dreams into goals and following them through is an integral part of the life of McAllister who for many years had dreamt of owning his own business. In order to make that dream a reality, McAllister, 57, sold his "quarter million dollar house" in Libertyville and moved into an older townhome.

"When my wife and I decided one year ago that I was going to go into business by myself one of the things we decided was that the only safe way was to sell our house," said McAllister. He admits it was a great sacrifice, however, his goals include moving into a brand new Libertyville townhouse in two years.

McAllister intends on reaching his goals by selling more and more individuals and companies on his Effective Time Management classes. Currently, he is approaching the fifth week of seven in his first class.

During lesson number four, McAllister covered areas including delegation of responsibilities, low pay-off and high pay-off activities, conference planning, and when to say 'no.' "Don't say 'I'm too busy.' It's not a good connotation. Say 'I'm committed' elsewhere," McAllister suggests.

The Effective Time Management class is geared towards managers, supervisors and executives and costs $595. It is one of a series of courses including Effective Personal Management, Effective Motivational Management and Effective Supervisory Management. "All of our courses are for people who are doing a good job. We're giving them the tools to make them even better," said McAllister.

'All of our courses are for people who are doing a good job. We're giving them the tools to make them even better,' — Spencer McAllister.

The course schedule, tapes and books come from LMI, a 31-year-old business based in Texas. What McAllister brings to the method is his years of experience in the business world and his goal-setting techniques.

McAllister has worn numerous hats over the years: high school teacher, educational consultant for All-State Insurance, public relations editor, salesman. He even taught speed-reading classes for awhile. "I wanted to do something I was good at. This brings both teaching and selling together," said McAllister.

"All the classes use goal setting as a base. The main factor they learn about is writing down their goals. If they don't write them down, they're nebulous...I stress goal setting in every area—spiritual, family, financial, business." In order to achieve these goals, McAllister suggests being aware of the obstacles so as to prepare for them and being clear on the benefits to enhance motivation.

McAllister started taking goal-setting seriously about 14 years ago. That was about the time when McAllister became a pilot. He keeps his airplane out at Campbell Airport in Grayslake.

"My Uncle Eddie was a pilot in the second World War. One year he bought me this little cardboard simulator. From that moment on I wanted to be a pilot. It was always on my dream list, but not on my goals list. But I knew someday I would do it."

Spencer McAllister helps business people manage time more effectively through goal setting.

A dinner and ceremony was held at the Barn of Barrington, where the 10th anniversary was officially recognized and BIR employees who have recently been granted patents received awards. BIR was formed in late 1980 by a group of 11 scientists and engineers who had helped develop the world's first medical CT (CAT) scanners at EMI Medical. In the 10 years since, BIR has created new designs for medical CT systems, industrial x-ray imaging equipment, magnetic resonance imaging systems, ultrasound instruments, and optical imaging devices. A recent accomplishment is the development of a laser-based retinal imaging system, which will allow the eye to be imaged with very low-power light. In another current program, BIR is perfecting computerized x-ray techniques to inspect containers of nuclear waste, to reduce the likelihood that the containers will leak after being put into long-term storage.

Award Abbott for savings campaign

North Chicago—The U.S. Treasury Dept. has presented Abbott Laboratories with a "Golden Eagle Award" in honor of the company's outstanding 1990 Savings Bond campaign. The award was presented by U.S. Treasurer Catalina V. Villalpando at the 1991 U.S. Savings Bonds National Campaign Leadership Conference in Washington, D.C. Abbott is one of only 29 organizations to receive this prestigious Treasury Dept. award. The new award was established in 1991 in connection with the 50th anniversary of U.S. Savings Bonds. Companies receiving the award enrolled at least 50 percent of their employees in a payroll savings plan and added at least 3,000 new or increased savers during their 1990 campaigns.

Manpower predicts soft job market

Vernon Hills—Hiring prospects are expected to decline this spring in Lake County. According to Manpower Inc.'s Employment Outlook Survey results for the second quarter of 1991, 10 percent of area firms interviewed responded with intentions to increase their staffs while 13 percent reported planned personnel reductions. The spring projections for the April/May/June period also indicate 67 percent planned to stay at current workforce levels. The remaining 10 percent were not sure of their staffing needs. One year ago prospects were much brighter, when 31 percent forecast workforce additions and seven percent anticipated staff cutbacks.

Bank has strong year end report

100,000 die The AIDS epidemic arrives 'secretly'

EDITOR'S NOTE:

This is the first in a series of articles that will try to refocus public attention on the most important ongoing news story of the 1980s and 1990s, the status of the spread of AIDS, internationally, nationally and locally and what is being done about it.

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

In 1981, the world was shocked and more than a little scandalized, when it was introduced to AIDS, Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome, said by some to be the pending Bubonic plague of the 1980s-90s.

The headlines of every newspaper and tabloid screamed about this "homosexual" disease when movie star Rock Hudson was stricken and died with AIDS.

Until 1988, AIDS was still all over the television news and talk shows, and it repeatedly jumped back into the newspaper headlines when world famous pianist Liberace and the celebrated choreographer Bob Fosse succumbed to the disease.

Now in 1991, most of the AIDS stories have been relegated to the inside of the newspaper and sometimes vie with the classified adds for position towards the rear of the newspaper.

Unlike other kinds of "yesterday's news" the AIDS story is bigger today than it was 10 years ago, for it is today that 100,000 Americans have died from this disease. It is by tomorrow, 1993, that the federal center of disease control expects twice that many Americans to succumb to this disease with 200,000 of the one million Americans that are carrying the HIV virus slated for death by then.

So, in two years, 300,000 Americans will have died from AIDS. That's six times the total of American soldiers killed during the Vietnam Conflict, just 65,000 less than the number of soldiers that died on both sides in the Civil War, and just County had 31 AIDS cases; by 1988, 39; by 1989, 58, and by the end of December, 1990, 74 residents of Lake County had reported that they had AIDS.

In the first two months of 1991, two more cases have been reported, bringing recorded cases to 76.

According to Emily Bergman, director of communicable diseases for Lake County, the fastest AIDS growth is now showing up in women, ages 25-45.

Dr. Ruth Berkleman of the U. S. Centers For Disease Control reports that by the end of 1991, AIDS is expected to be among the top five killers of women 25-44 years of age on a national scale. Many women who contract AIDS are IV drug users, sexual partners of IV drug users or sexual partners of bisexual males.

By the start of 1991, 61 percent of the homosexual disease, but a fatal very contagious disease being spread by homosexuals and heterosexuals alike, by intravenous drug users and pregnant women, and also through blood transfusions.

We are told that research has shown that AIDS, which may have originated in Africa, was brought to this country by an Argentinian sailor who was homosexual and who immediately spread it through several other promiscuous homosexuals, all of whom were dead a few years later. Thus the homosexual tag.

If a promiscuous heterosexual male or female infected with the virus had brought the disease into this country it would have been tagged simply a sexually transmitted disease.

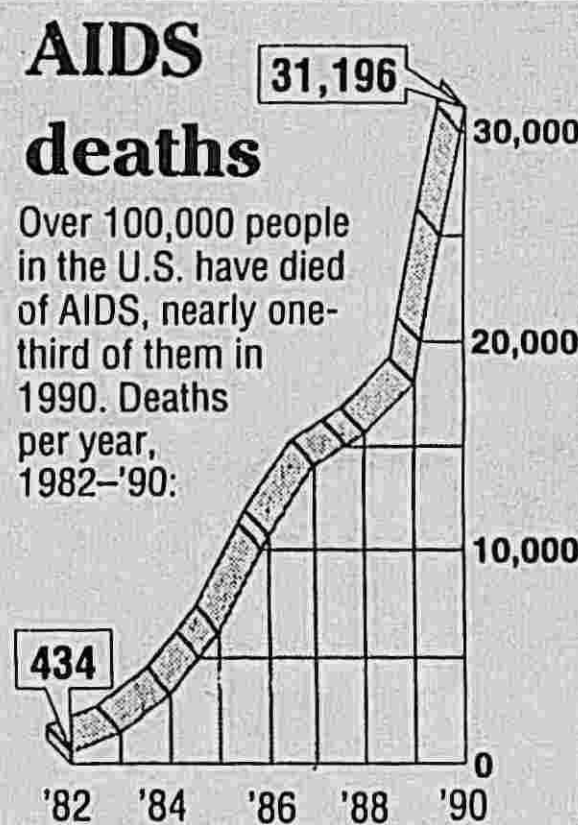

If an intravenous drug user with AIDS had gotten off of that boat in New York and shared his needle with other narcotics users, AIDS would have been linked to the drug community.

When we interviewed the then Atty. Gen. of the United States C. Everett Koop five years ago, he passed on his worries about the status of the teens of the mid-1980s by 1991, "Today (1985), teenagers, 13 and 14 years old have the highest rate of sexually communicated diseases( outside of AIDS) than ever before in history — what will be the AIDS report on these children five years from now?" he asked.

AIDS is now the second leading killer of young American men, say federal health officials, with unintentional injuries, including accidents and homicides, remaining the leading cause of death in U. S. men, ages 25-44.

With the rise in AIDS deaths in young women, AIDS has become the cause in 10 percent of all young adult deaths, and if things go as predicted, that figure will rise to 30 percent by 1993.

Next, we will delve into the different categories of people who have and will contract AIDS. We will meet some of these victims. We will look into programs available locally for those who have the disease and the future prognosis for AIDS treatment and cures.

Now, because of all the information being disseminated, not only by the news media, but also the government and health departments all over the nation, anyone who isn't still locked into a moral dark age realizes that AIDS is not simply a

Cuba Quarantines AIDS Patients

Cuba is the only country in the world to require both mandatory testing of its population for the AIDS virus and the mandatory quarantining of its AIDS patients. The government has screened about one-third of its population and should complete the testing of its 10 million people in the next few years.

Those who test positive are sent to the government quarantine center in Havana where they are kept apart from the rest of the population.

Cuba has the lowest AIDS-infection rate in Latin America. Less than 300 persons have been quarantined so far. The government also requires foreigners to be tested for AIDS before entering the country.

The United States and other nations have condemned this totalitarian policy.

AIDS

Yesterday's news, tomorrow's impact

100,000 less than the number of Americans that were killed in WW2.

This means that by the end of this decade, the number of Americans that are expected to die from this disease will dwarf the total number of soldiers that died in the three biggest wars our country has been involved in.

According to the Framingham Heart Study done by Dr. Richard Becker of the University of Massachusetts School of Medicine, approximately 50,000 men and women of all ages die the same year of heart attacks suffered in that year.

The first case of AIDS was reported in Lake County in 1983. By 1987, Lake 76 AIDS cases reported in Lake County were dead.

Forty Six of those 76 Lake County AIDS cases have been found in homosexual and bisexual men and women. Nine of those cases are IV drug users. The remaining 21 came down with AIDS after heterosexual sex, a blood transfusion or were born of mothers at risk, etc.

Seventy two percent of those AIDS cases were white, 18 percent black and the remaining 10 percent were of Hispanic, Indian and other minority dissents.

"Since an epidemic is defined as many more than usual, with the fast increase in numbers, the AIDS epidemic arrived a long time ago," says Bergman.

Slow Drains?

You'll never have a slow running or clogged drain again!

The secret? Clean drains don't run slow. Slow drains, or periodic clogs, are SIGNALS that a thick layer of "gook" is choking your pipes. This gook coats the entire length of your pipe from sink to sewer/septic.

Conventional drain openers cannot remove this build up. Even a small tunnel through the waste lets them flow through the pipe, leaving the gook behind!

Now, with just a few minutes each month, you can easily clean out your pipes like new...and KEEP them clean with Plumb Clean. Its totally unique formula clings, and penetrates deep into the gook. That allows it to liquify even years of build up. Plumb Clean will clean the entire length of your pipes. It will make your drains run like new, when used as directed. This penetrating action is so revolutionary, PlumbClean is money-back guaranteed!

Save Money. a 1 lb. container of PlumbClean holds up to 41 drain treatments. Even if drain openers could fix slow drains, you would have to buy over 10 quart bottles to get the same number of treatments. Plumb Clean costs about 35¢ per treatment. We don't know of anything that cleans drains for less.

Safety. Conventional drain openers are dangerous chemicals. They can injure eyes on contact. They can release deadly vapors, in some situations. Some, may damage you fixtures. Plumb Clean will not burn skin, or eyes. It will not release harmful fumes. When used as directed, it is 100% safe for people, and of course all plumbing.

So, if your pipes are signalling you, get safe, guaranteed Plumb Clean today!

LAKELAND NEWSPAPERS' AUTO MART

(708)223-8161

Attention to auto maintenance helps ensure good performance

Despite engineering advances on today's automobiles, attention to two maintenance duties with spring approaching needed to help ensure peppy, spirited performance from your vehicle throughout the warm-weather season. They are:

Replacing spark plugs, a traditional car-care measure, which is just as important as always in restoring snappy engine response.

Servicing the fuel injection system, a new wrinkle, becoming more important for cars in the 1990s.

According to engineers at Champion Spark Plug, most vehicles are in need of recuperative maintenance following the demands of winter driving they have recently experienced.

The "old-fashioned tune-up" has changed considerably over the years because of improved equipment on cars. Gone from concern to owners of new models are such traditional practices as setting the timing, installing new points, and adjusting the carburetor.

Still required, however, is the spark plug. It remains the vital link in the ignition system.

The Champion engineers explained that particularly after winter, when most automotive engines experience significant periods of idling, warming up, and stop-and-go driving, carbon and other deposits can build up on the spark plugs. A new set of spark plugs, as part of a spring tune-up, is a quick, inexpensive, and effective way to restore performance to an engine.

Another recommended spring-time service, especially for the millions of vehicles on the road with fuel injection systems, is a new procedure being referred to as "fuel system tune-up."

This service, only available by taking your car to a professional mechanic, involves hooking the fuel system to pressurized cleaning and lubricating equipment. The engine runs for 15 to 20 minutes on a chemical product that contains advanced, carefully researched fuel additives, which purge the fuel injectors, intake valves, and combustion chambers of impurities built up during winter driving.

Oil companies say that new, improved grades of gasoline help clean fuel injectors, but they can not do the entire job on all cars, especially when buildups have occurred all winter, the engineers say. The new "fuel system tune-up" procedure once or twice a year provides the needed restoration of performance.

Together, a traditional remedy (replacing spark plugs) and a new auto maintenance service (fuel system tune-up) are changing the definition of spring car care for your engine.

Tire care tips for fuel economy

•Maintain proper tire inflation, between 20 and 35 pounds per square inch (psi). Underinflation of four or more psi can reduce fuel economy by at least five percent and tire life as much as 40 percent.

•Check the placard in the glove box or on the driver's door for the vehicle's recommended tire pressure.

•Check tire pressure at least once every two weeks with a reliable air pressure gauge.

•Valve stems should have a plastic or metal cap. Plastic caps keep out the dirt, but metal ones have a rubber gasket that seals against leakage.

•Rotate tires every 10,000 miles.

•Check the alignment of your vehicle once a year. Misaligned tires can cause the car to drag, lowering mileage and causing unnecessary wear on the tires.

Heart and soul make Bristol world's top dog

by MARY SULLIVAN
Lakeland Newspapers

Sleep, eat, sleep, go for a walk, sleep, eat, sleep, go for a walk, sleep some more...the agenda of the average dog's day. But not for a canine with "star quality" like Ken-L Ration Biskit Obedience Trial Champion of the Year, OTCH. Tanbark Bristol Creme.

Bristol, a golden retriever, is to the dog world what Michael Jordan is to the National Basketball Association, simply the best, an outstanding athlete.

"It's the ultimate test of stamina courage and heart in a dog," said Bristol's owner/handler Bernie Brown, Lake Villa, of the competition.

By collecting 1,425 points, Brown's top dog holds the distinction of winning the most obedience trial championship points in 1990, the most by any dog in history in a single year of competition.

Brown also is duly recognized for his accomplishment as the only trainer in American Kennel Club history to have earned a total of 5,000 obedience trial championship points and the only trainer (Continued on Page 47)

Star quality

Basic training

Dog trainer Bernie Brown, Lake Villa, shows some well-deserved affection to his prized pupil OTCH Tanbark's Bristol Creme, Ken-L Ration Biskit Obedience Trial Champion of the Year. Brown's top dog racked up 1,425 obedience trial points, the most by any dog in the history in a single year of competition. Brown is the only trainer in American Kennel Club history to have earned a total of 5,000 obedience trial points and to have won the champion of the year award with two different dogs.—Photo by Mary Sullivan.

WEEKEND/LEISURE

Mom Likes To Cook

By Randee Rian

To all my Irish and those who wish they were, friends...
May your home be filled with laughter,
May your pockets be filled with gold,
May you have all the happiness
Your IRISH heart can hold.

Corned Beef and Cabbage Soup

Enjoy something different this St. Pat's Day. All the flavors of a New England boiled dinner in this soup. Delicious!

- 2-3 lb. corned beef
- 5 cups water
- 2 cups beef broth
- 1 onion, coarsely chopped
- 2 garlic cloves, minced
- 6 peppercorns
- 2 whole cloves
- 1 bay leaf
- 6 new potatoes, unpeeled and quartered
- 3 carrots, cut into julienne strips

- 6 cups very coarsely chopped cabbage

In a Dutch oven, combine corned beef, water and beef broth. Bring to a boil. Reduce heat; cover and simmer 15 minutes. Skim off any scum that rises to the surface. Add onion, garlic, peppercorns, cloves and bay leaf. Simmer covered an additional 3 to 4 hours or until meat is tender. Remove meat from broth; cool. Skim fat from broth. Cut meat into bite-size pieces; return to broth. Stir in carrots and potatoes. Bring to boil. Reduce heat; cover and simmer 15 minutes. Stir in cabbage. Simmer covered an additional 15 minutes or until all vegetables are tender. Remove peppercorns, cloves and bay leaf.

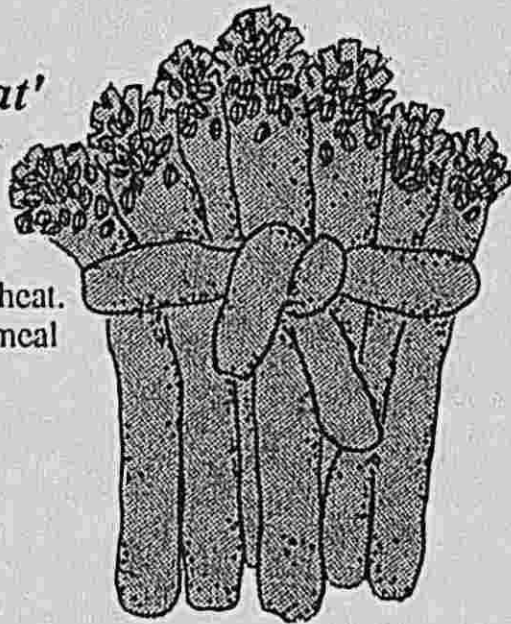

Makes 6 servings.

(If corned beef is packaged with it's own spice packet, substitute packet for peppercorns, cloves and bay leaf, if desired.)

'Sheaf of Wheat' Bread Sticks

Creative shaping of refrigerated bread sticks produces this sheaf of wheat. Add a shaking of dry oatmeal for the finishing touch.

- 1 can refrigerated bread sticks (8)
  - Butter
  - 1 egg, beaten
  - 2 Tbl. rolled oats
- (for sheaf of wheat)

Open can of bread stick dough, unroll into 8 pieces. To shape sheaf, roll 7 pieces into seven 12-inch ropes; place next to each other on greased cookie sheet. Roll 1 piece into 9-inch rope; place crosswise on top of 7 ropes 1/3 from top. Using scissors, snip tops of 7 ropes to resemble wheat; separate slightly. Brush dough with beaten egg; sprinkle snipped tops with 2 Tbl. rolled oats. Bake in preheated 350 degree oven for about 20 minutes till bread sheaf is light golden brown.

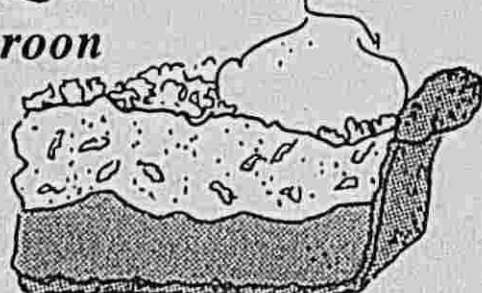

Makes 8 breadsticks.

St. Paddy's Macaroon Crunch Pie

Tangy lime sherbet, crispy macaroon cream and a layer of coconut cream make a three-tiered treat for dessert.

- 9-inch baked pastry shell
- 1/2 cup toasted coconut

- 1 pint lime sherbet, softened
- 1-1/2 cup whipping cream, to be whipped
- 1/3 cup powdered sugar
- 1 cup crushed crisp macaroon cookies
- 1/2 cup chopped pecans

Sprinkle 6 Tbl. coconut in bottom of baked pastry shell; cover with softened sherbet. In mixing bowl, beat cream with powdered sugar until thick; reserve 1 cup for topping. Fold crushed cookies and pecans into remaining whipped cream; spoon over sherbet, sealing to edge. Garnish with reserved whipped cream and 2 Tbl. coconut. Freeze 6 hours or overnight.

Makes 1 9-inch pie.

Ribbon Cookies

Strips of green, chocolate-nut and plain dough make for a perfect St. Patrick's Day treat for the office, a club get-together or a school party.

- 1 cup butter, softened
- 1-1/4 cup sugar
- 1 egg
- 1 tsp. vanilla extract
- 2-1/4 cup all-purpose flour
- 1/4 tsp. salt
- 1-1/4 tsp. baking powder
- 1 square unsweetened chocolate, melted and cooled
- 1/4 cup finely chopped pecans or walnuts
- Green food coloring

Cream butter until light and fluffy. Gradually add sugar, beating well. Add egg and vanilla and beat well. Mix next 3 ingredients, add and mix well.

Divide dough in 3 equal parts. Stir in chocolate and nuts into one part. Add a few drops of green food coloring to another part. Line 9"x5"x3" loaf pan with waxed paper. Pack plain part of dough into pan. With teaspoon, distribute chocolate part on dough and spread evenly. Repeat with green part. Fold waxed paper over top and press down with fingers to smooth top and press layers together. Chill at least 24 hours. Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Remove from pan and peel off paper. Cut in half lengthwise, then slice about 1/4" thick. Put, 1" apart, on ungreased cookie sheets and bake about 10 minutes (do not brown).

Makes about 6 dozen cookies.

Homemade Creme de Menthe Liqueur

Fun to make and serve. Let stand in a cool, dark place 1 month before serving.

- 1-1/2 sugar
- 1 cup water
- 1-1/2 cup vodka or gin
- 1 tsp. mint flavor
- 1/4 tsp. green food coloring

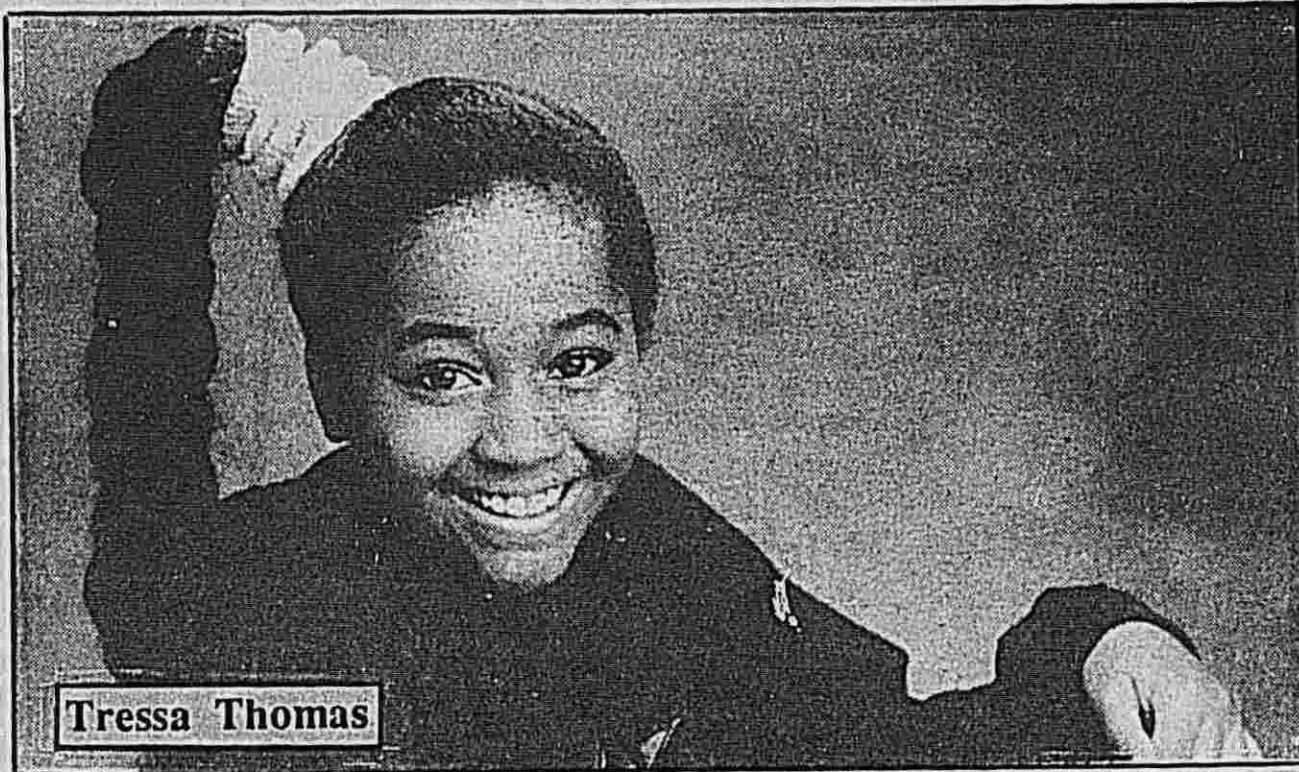

In a 4 cup measure or large bowl combine sugar and water. Microwave at High 4 to 5 minutes, or until boiling. Boil 5 minutes. Watch closely; stir if necessary to prevent boilover. Remove and cool to room temperature. Skim any foam from the top. Mix in vodka or gin, mint flavoring and the green food coloring. Pour into clean, sterilized bottle or four small bottles; cap. Let stand in a cool, dark place 1 month before serving. Shake bottle occasionally to mix.

Makes about 4 cups.

Tressa Thomas

Tressa Thomas, Lake County's new film star

North Chicago, and Lake County for that matter, has a new film celebrity in 12-year-old Tressa Thomas.

Tressa plays the role of comedian Robert Townsend's little sister in the film "5 Heartbeats," which had a private showing at the Chicago Fine Arts Theatre last week.

The movie will open at theaters all over the country on March 29.

The "5 Heartbeats," a singing group, are played by Townsend, Michael Wright, Leon, Tico Wells and Harry Lennix.

Dianne Carroll and Harry Nicholas are also featured in the film.

Tressa and Patti LaBelle sing a song especially written for the picture. The song also had its premiere musical performance on WGCI radio last week.

Tressa and her singing voice have been in local demand lately after she sang the "National Anthem" at the Bulls game.

The day after the game, radio stations from all over the country had her sing the "Anthem" into the telephone for their listeners.

A benefit performance at the Superstars Benefit for the Kitchens of Chicago, followed by an appearance on "Face to Face" with Vernon Jarrett, and another gig singing the "Anthem" at a Los Angeles Lakers game, plus an audition for NBC, has kept Tressa and her mother very busy.

Tressa, who loves to perform, keeps her training up between and during performances.

She is continually studying tap and jazz dancing, as well as modeling and acting at Shelly's School of Dance and Modeling in Libertyville.

When she's on the road, Tressa has tutors for her regular school studies, but when she's home, she attends classes at the Green Bay School in North Chicago.

Trying to keep her off-stage life on the normal side takes a lot of work from both Tressa and her family, but Tressa realizes what theatrical success takes, and is willing to work hard for it.

wit as fascinating as her physical charm.

Director Rick Corley has set "Much Ado About Nothing" in the Sicily of 1861, the year of Garibaldi's successful revolution for nationhood. He has done this in order to "bring out the passion at the play's center, and to place it at a time of celebration."

North America's Largest Enclosed Shopping Mall

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT, NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

My regular readers may remember the title for North America's largest shopping mall now belongs to the West Edmonton Mall in Alberta, Canada.

Alas titles such as "biggest", "fastest", "highest" and the like, are never permanent.

Enter the "Mall Of America" due to open August 1992 in Bloomington, Minnesota and claiming to be even bigger than the West Edmonton Mall.

Mall of America boasts 18 theaters, a seven-acre Snoopy theme park, the world's largest aquarium, miniature golf, comedy clubs as well as over 400 stores and will employ over 10,000 people!

Bloomington's new mall is expected to fill a void in the midwest for a world-class tourism attractions like those found in Florida and California. The mall's owners are counting on a demand for an affordable, weekend get-a-way vacation near home.

The mall will feature 4-story high "American Theme" districts separating the major anchor stores.

The Snoopy theme park will be enclosed in the center and will feature a log flume ride, roller coaster, carousel and three story chair swing. Restaurants will be located among trees and waterfalls.

The aquarium feature a walk-through acrylic tunnel which will allow visitors to come face-to-face with live sharks and rays.

Future plans include at least 1,000 hotel rooms to be built either right in the mall or connected by skyways. A theme hotel like the Fantasyland Hotel at Edmonton Mall is even being considered. In the meantime the over 7,000 hotel rooms surrounding the mall site should prove sufficient.

The mall is being constructed on a 78-acre complex that was once the old grounds of the Met Stadium until 1980 and is only five minutes from the airport.

Check It Out

by GLORIA DAVIS

Film Rev.

Emotional people stories have given way to blood and guts and bang-crash-boom movies until lately, and now it is a genuine pleasure to see 'people' movies, especially just plain love stories, returning.

The success of films like "Pretty Woman" and "Green Card" have rekindled an important fire in the moviegoers' eyes.

One of the latest is "Once Around," a dynamic story about love, traditions, family and emotions, starring two of our favorite and most versatile actors Richard Dreyfus and Holly Hunter.

This is a happy-sad flick that really couldn't miss given its leading and supporting cast which includes Danny Aiello and Gina Rollands.

Although the premise is a little too sentimental and mushy, it goes over, mainly because of Dreyfus' lovable, cloutish, overbearing portrayal of an older lout who falls in love with Hunter who is hanging on to life by a thread after being viciously dumped by her boyfriend.

The wedge that the too enthusiastic Dreyfus unknowingly starts to drive between Hunter and her rather traditional family by giving them too much leads to a rather satisfying but sad ending as top salesman Dreyfus turns out to be really selling a zest for life at its best.

We give this one four out of five stars.

Be There

Quintet to perform at Drake Theatre

The Chicago Brass Quintet will perform at the Drake Theatre on March 22 at 8 p.m. Known for the technical mastery of their instruments, Chicago Brass Quintet has a remarkable talent for performing. Their unique brand of humor puts them in a class of their own.

Located on the campus of Barat College, the Drake Theatre is at the intersection of Sheridan and Westleigh Rds in Lake Forest. Tickets for the concert are $14 general admission and $12 students and seniors. For information, call the box office at (708)295-2620.

Concert selections will focus on American composers. Features will be the works of George Gershwin, Leonard Bernstein, and Scott Joplin, among others.

The quintet is composed of five talented musicians. Ross Beacraft, trumpet, currently performs principal trumpet with Chicago Opera Theatre, Chicago City Ballet, Chicago Chamber Orchestra, Chicago Philharmonic and the Elgin Symphony Orchestra. He is the chairman of the brass department of DePaul University, and appears often with the Lyric Opera, Chicago Symphony and in recording studios.

Matthew Lee, trumpet, is one of the most active freelance trumpeters in Chicago. His credits include frequent performances with the Illinois Philharmonic Orchestra, Milwaukee Symphony, Northwest Indiana Symphony, and many chamber groups.

Jonathan Boen, French horn, has performed as principal French horn for the Lyric Opera and the Orchestra of Illinois since 1980. In addition to being active in Chicago's recording studios, he has performed with Chicago's Music of the Baroque, Contemporary Chamber Players, American Ballet Orchestra, and the Chicago Symphony Orchestra.

James Mattern and Robert Bauchens are founding members of the Chicago Brass Quintet. Mattern, trombone, has appeared with the Lyric Opera, Chicago Symphony Orchestra, Orchestra of Illinois, the Bolshoi Ballet, Joffrey Ballet, San Francisco Ballet, and the Contemporary Chamber Players, as well as performing in Chicago's theatres and pit orchestras. Mattern is also a noted composer and arranger.

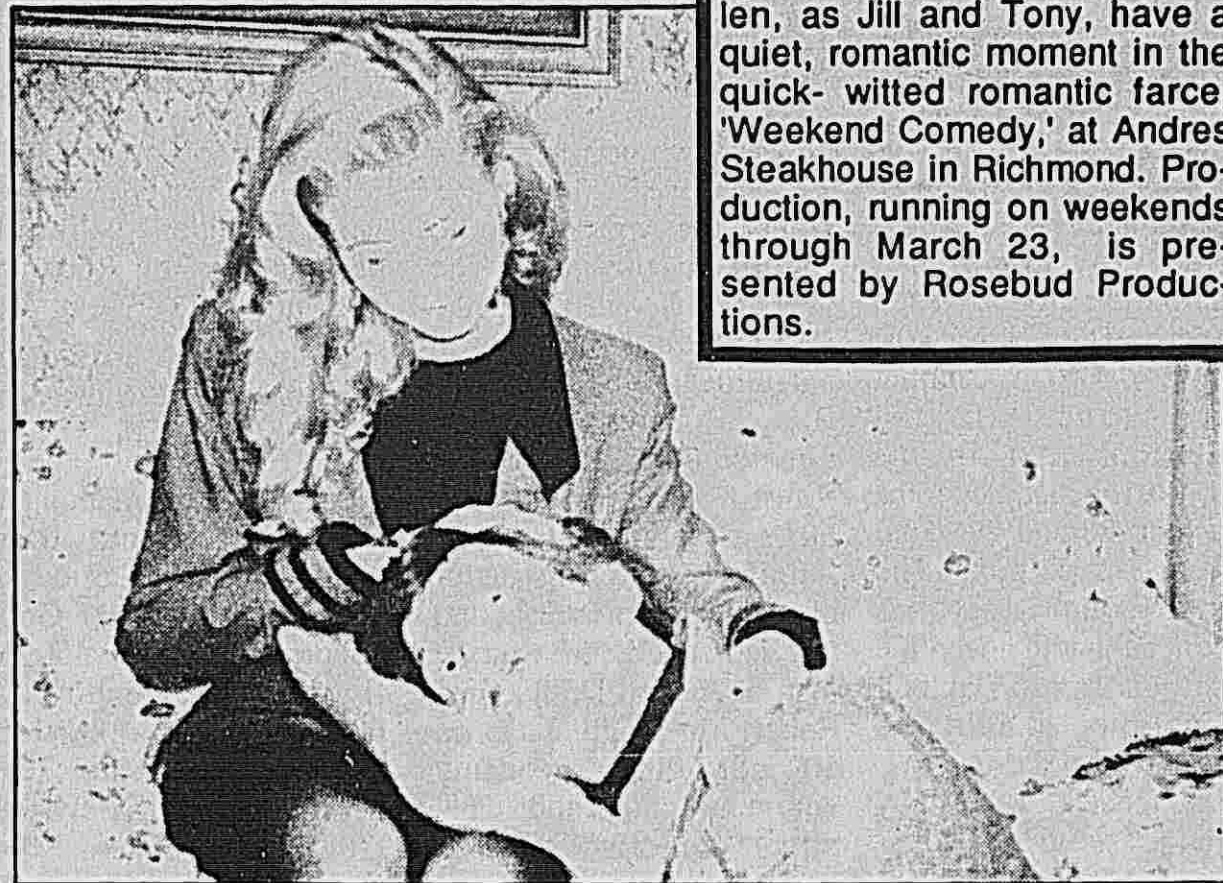

Robert Bauchens, tuba, has been a member of Chicago's Lyric Opera for over 20 years, as well as performing with the Orchestra of Illinois, the Joffrey Ballet and American Ballet. He is very active in commercial and popular music, and has been featured in a number of commercials.

PEDRO

Spacious living areas and plenty of privacy are two of the outstanding features of the Pedro. The garage is at the ground level of this contemporary tri-level home, family living spaces and bedrooms are at mid-level, and a master suite is located a half-flight up, over the garage.

The angled front entrance opens into an airlock entry foyer. A closet, which stretches the length of the nearly triangular room, is easily large enough to hide the jumble of boots, coats and umbrellas which tend to accumulate in such spaces.

Straight ahead down the hall, you step into a huge family room/dining room/kitchen combination. Couches, easy chairs, a home entertainment center, a pool or ping pong table -- there's plenty of room for all of it here. One long uninterrupted wall could easily be shelved and used for display of photos and family treasures, or as a library.

A recycling center, with separate spaces for glass, cans and trash, is tucked beneath a central work island in the L-shaped kitchen. The walk-in pantry is positively enormous, and includes reach-through shelves which can be accessed from either within the closet, or from the kitchen.

The den, located to the right of the front entry, makes a convenient home office. In addition to the usual washer, dryer and utility tub, the utility room has a range top, complete with hood and fan.

A half-flight up puts you in a luxurious master suite, complete with step-up spa, compartmentalized bathroom and a 16-foot-long walk-in closet.

For a study plan of the PEDRO (400-12), send $7.50 to Landmark Design, P.O. Box 2307, Eugene, OR 97402. (Be sure to specify plan name & number when ordering.) Designers, Architects and readers with plans they would like to see featured also are invited to contact Landmark.

Your Horoscope

by Charles King Cooper

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) A sensitive situation arises with a loved one, but a dinner out together will allay hurt feelings. Intuition is a plus career-wise. Tender egos on the job need careful handling.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Don't throw away money, but do enjoy yourself now. Accent fun and pleasure. Be a good observer for job success. Don't get into one of those moods. Keep your eyes open for value when shopping.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Keeping a hurt inside is not the way to handle your feelings. Communicate and then you'll see that it was only a slight misunderstanding. Monetary gains can be made now.

CANCER June 21 to July 22) Fawning behavior will turn off a higher-up. Remember to be sincere in your dealings. A get-together with friends pleases you. Be especially aware of others' feelings now. Throw away suspicions, but do utilize intuition.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) If you're tactful with others, you'll have a fine week socializing. Toward nightfall, you'll want some time for yourself. The personal touch doesn't work for you career-wise now.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Be aware of subtleties on the job. Higher-ups are easier to deal with than co-workers. Know when to be silent, when to speak up. News that you've been waiting for should come now. Keep in touch with those at a distance.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Property matters are financially beneficial, but still you should refrain from overspending now. Loved ones find the bond between them growing stronger. Stay clear of long-shot gambles in business.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Though you'll enjoy some work successes now, be careful not to overlook details. Also, you need to watch what you say. An improvement in your love life is no reason to go overboard in spending.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Conservative tactics are best now. A loved one needs your support, not your criticism. Evening hours may bring an impromptu meeting. Little things once again loom as problems for you.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) This should be a good week for career interests, but you may have a minor difference with a friend about a financial matter. You feel you can conquer the world now and therefore are inclined to gloss over little things.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Be careful not to put your foot in your mouth by saying something inappropriate. A financial plan takes shape to your benefit. You're the life of the party now, but are inclined to be too generous.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Be aware of excessive pride. A career success now tempts you to take risks that you shouldn't. Consolidate gains rather than expand. In talks about ideological matters, be sure to stick to your principles.

Cinderella Corsairs shock Stevenson

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

In the end, it all boiled down to free throws.

After the stirring rendition of the national anthem, inspiring pre-game cheers, not one but two NBA-style dunks, rallies and counter rallies, the opening game of the Waukegan sectional tournament between Stevenson and Carmel was decided at the so-called charity stripe.

Carmel pulled off an unlikely 80-66 upset of top-seeded Stevenson by making 16 straight free throws, a total of 17 for the fourth quarter.

"We were just were concentrating real well," Carmel's Kevin Ryan said.

"Free-throws hurt us for three straight games, but we've been a pretty good free-throw shooting team throughout the year," Carmel Coach Scott Rosberg said.

The Corsairs, 16-11, are the proverbial Cinderella team in this year's sectional as they are the only team with less than 20 wins. But competing against the likes of St. Joseph in the East Suburban Catholic Conference can pay dividends. In large measure, that is why Carmel was waiting for the outcome of Wednesday's Libertyville-Warren grudge match to see who it plays in the sectional final game March 8. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Carmel was not shocked, then, when Coleman, who was "held" to 23 points, scored off two dunks. "We've had a backboard broken against us two weeks ago, so we should be used to that," Rosberg said.

Carmel tried different players guarding Coleman, who led Stevenson to its first regional title over Mundelein and the North suburban Conference. Guard Jermaine Williams came in to guard Coleman while Ryan, 6-1, did as well.

While Stevenson had Coleman's dunks, Carmel had the balanced scoring. Junior Pete Eisenbarth followed up a 23 point game against Waukegan in the regional final with 18 points. Chris Mohr had 22, Dan Gramm had 13 and had Ryan 10 for the winners.

Stevenson, while losing Coleman, Smith, to graduation, have some formidable weapons back for next year, notably Piggott and Eric Roth.

"I can tell you what you can print in the paper about my kids. Their coach loves them. For 28 times, they just played their hearts out," Johnson said.

Eric Roth added 14 for Stevenson, which finishes at 25-3.

"I think the regional championship was bigger only because it was the regional championship. In many ways, this game does not mean anything unless we win Friday night," Rosberg said.

For many minutes in the second quarter, it looked like Stevenson was an express train that could not be stopped. Using outlet passes of as long as three-quarter court, Carmel was often left in the dust as Stevenson garnered a 40-34 halftime lead. A three-pointer by Boomer Whipple, the second trey for Stevenson for the quarter, gave the Pats a 38-32 lead with one minute left.

"Instead of a full-court press, we told our one and two man to make sure they were conscience of getting back. Some of those long passes were not always after makes, but misses. We got lazy and frustrated, and dropping our heads when they were scoring fast-break points. It was just a conscience effort to get back on defense," Rosberg said.

"We talked about how we got away from the whole thing. We were looking for ourselves," Rosberg said.

Carmel began to gain momentum in the third quarter. Mohr had two baskets and Eisenbarth and Ryan one each as CHS made its first four shots for a 42-40 lead.

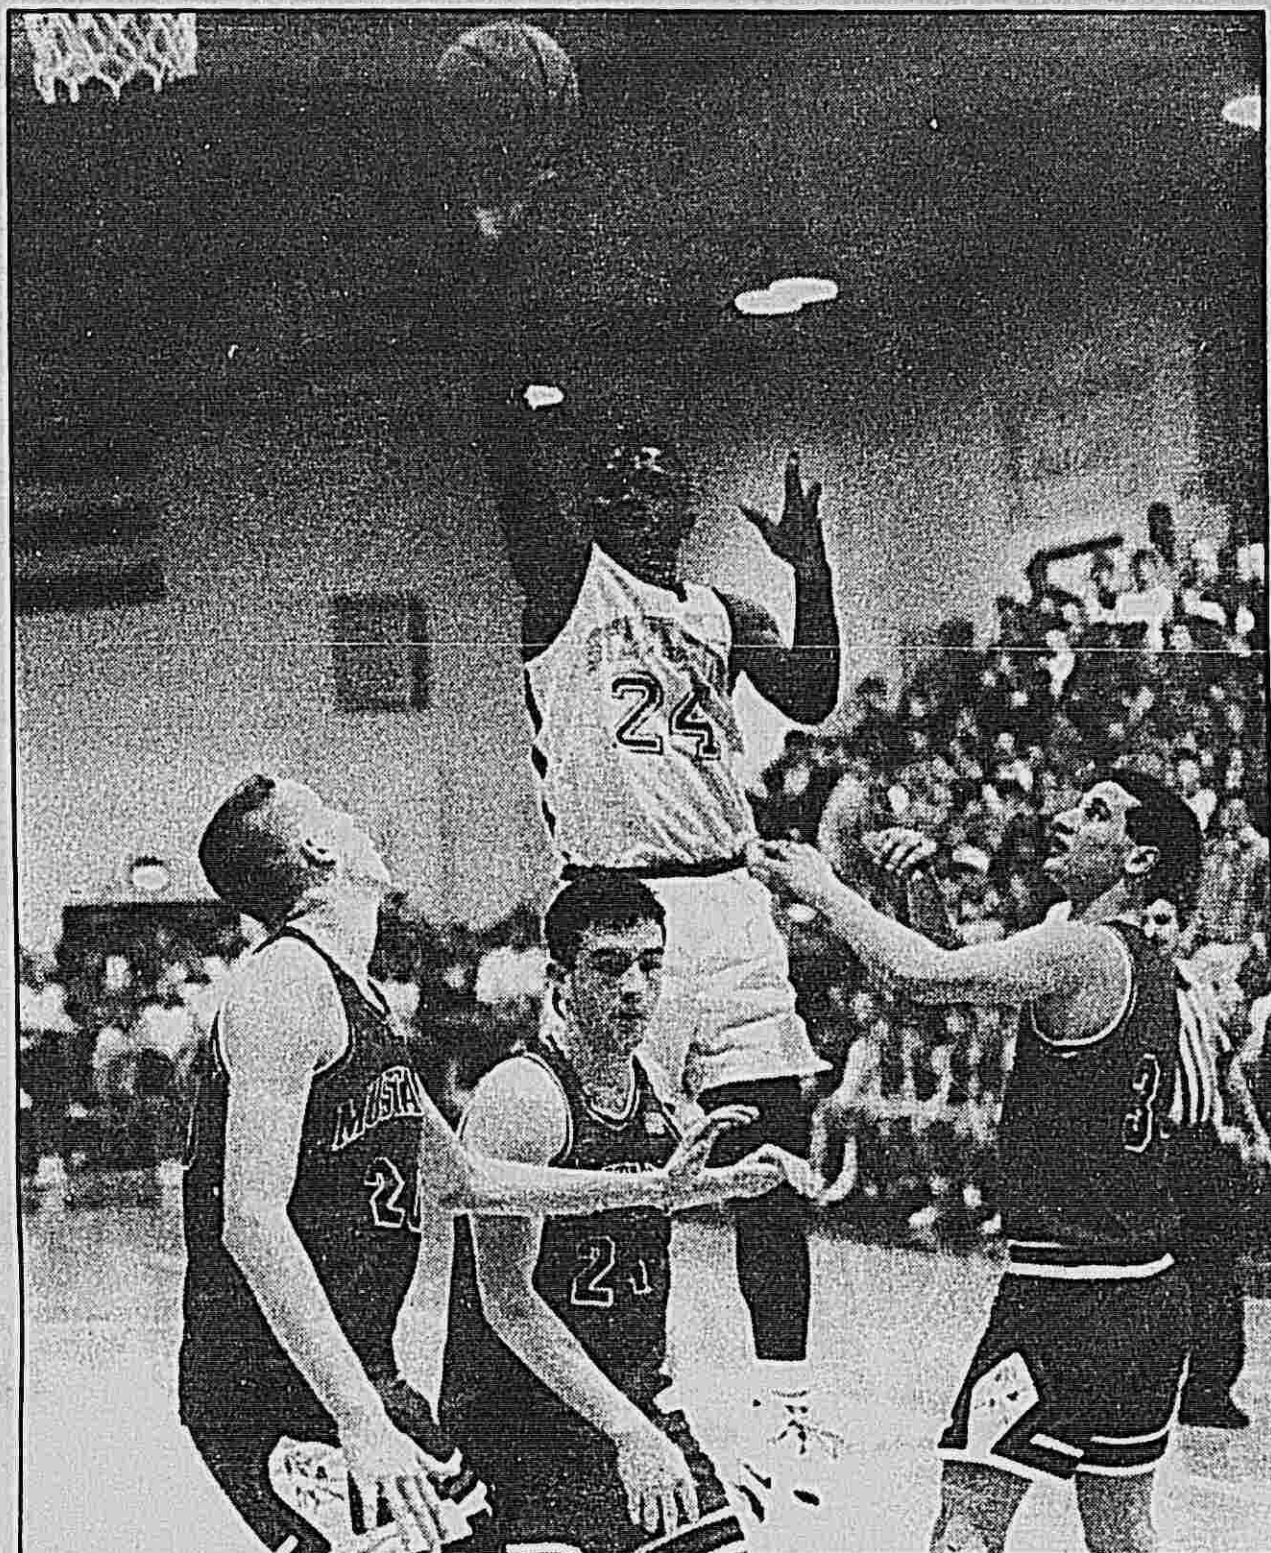

Still, there was still dunk time ahead. Coleman had his first to trim the Carmel lead to six, and got his second with :45 left, trimming the gap to 54-52. Carmel lead 56-52 after three as Mohr started the free throw parade.

Carmel was hit with a technical foul early in the fourth quarter, but Stevenson scored just one point off of it.

Grabbing the opportunity, Gramm and Mohr connected on layups. That led to the Sweet Sixteen of free throws, and who knows, after Warren and Libertyville's clash for the third time, a possible trip to Northwestern could be in the cards for the Cinderella Corsairs.

Carmel's Gramm ends on top in friendly battle

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

The final battle went to Dan Gramm. After fighting for rebounds, baskets and assists on the playgrounds and in the gyms for years with the likes of Boomer Whipple, Ronn Smith and Chris Piggott, the Carmel senior scored 13 points and ran the offense despite relentless pressure from Stevenson in the Waukegan sectional opener.

Overtime

Carmel pulled off a shocker, 80-66, to advance to the sectional title game against the Warren-Libertyville winner March 8. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

"I live in the Stevenson High School district and used to play against Boomer, Ron and Chris when I was at St. Mary's of Buffalo Grove," Gramm said after the win. "It was great to play them in a sectional game."

The Carmel win, made possible by 16 straight fourth-quarter free throws and 24-for-28 for the game, was especially sweet for Gramm. For he remembers the three regional title losses in a row to Warren. Now Carmel is one step away from the Sweet Sixteen.

"I really wanted to pick up my game a couple of notches for the tournament," Gramm said.

Gramm hit four of the 16 free throws in the final stanza, when the game was still in doubt. His last two were the ninth and 10th straight for Carmel. Stevenson watched in shock as the lead grew to 72-63 with 1:29 left.

Stevenson Coach Ken Johnson stressed the positives and praised Carmel in defeat, only the third of the season for the Prairie View School. The season featured the Wheeling Christmas title, sweeping the second half of the NSC season and winning a regional title with a 72-63 win over Mundelein. And of course, who could forget that 82-79 overtime thriller over Warren in the NSC title game.

"Twenty-five and three is how you sum it up. Carmel has a real nice ballclub. We were tight in the first quarter (Carmel led 10-3 in the early going). Second quarter we scored 26 points and got it going. In the third quarter we were a little bit flat," Johnson said.

Early rebounding helps 'Cats claim tourney title

Getting to the rebounds early can be a plus in basketball contests which can mean do-or-die in post-season tournament action.

Libertyville took the theory to heart and then some as the Wildcats held off Lake Forest 63-53 for their own regional title. Libertyville, 21-6, faces Warren in the Waukegan sectional. The winner advances to face Carmel in the March 8 title game with a trip to the Northwestern supersectional at stake.

"The biggest thing was we went to the boards early and got a lot of second and third shots," Libertyville Coach Max Sanders said.

play for the Wildcats as he scored 18 points. Brian Davis had 14 and Jon Buaer 13.

Brian Garraghty led Lake Forest with 11 points. The Scouts had knocked off Northwest Suburban Conference champ Round Lake in the first round.

Libertyville gained a 14-7 lead after one, and led by 12 at halftime. The Wildcats were expecting no pushover from the Scouts (11-16), despite the fact they had already beaten them twice.

"It was not a bad game, but not one of our better games. We had too many turnovers. But they played us a lot tougher than the previous two times," Sanders said.

Foss's final(?) home game provides memories

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

It was a special moment for Lisa Foss. Northern Illinois University's women's basketball team's chances were fading in the closing seconds of a North Star Conference contest against DePaul. NIU was shooting for its fifth straight win over the Blue Demons, but early missed chances, coupled with second-half turnovers combined to put the Huskies behind by some 14 points.

'Lisa Foss is the best player in the nation. She will be a legend for a long time. She has a lot of great teammates who set her screens and get her the ball.' - Northern Illinois University Coach Jayne Albright.

"I always wanted to make it. It was for my mom. I wanted to do something special for her," Foss said.

Foss took a rare shot from three-point range, swished it, and was fouled by DePaul's Rita Hale. There was 20.7 seconds left at the time, and the Lake Zurich High School graduate hit the free throw, bringing the home team to within five, 79-74.

But DePaul hung on for the North Star Conference win.

"It's been fun and a challenge to coach against great players like Lisa. I've known her for several years, but I take out all the personal elements from every game I coach," DePaul Coach Doug Bruno said.

Foss and the rest of the Huskies had a tough night in the final regular-season game at Chick Evans Field House. Foss's shooting was held to nine-for-22. She was in a personal scoring battle with DePaul's senior Beth Hasenmiller. She ended up winning that battle 31-30, but would have traded that for an NIU win.

"This was not about a game, it was about these seniors. The main reason I wanted to win this game was for them," NIU Coach Jayne Albright said as the seniors sat next to her at the press conference.

Foss has become NIU's leading scorer, and was coming off an MVP tournament as NIU won the Northern Lights Invitational in Alaska. She came into the DePaul game with 708 points for the season. The shot over Hale was a birthday present for Foss's mom, Anell.

"Lisa Foss is the best player in the nation. She will be a legend for a long time. She has a lot of great teammates who set her screens and get her the ball," Albright said.

Foss kept the Huskies in the game in the first half with 13 points. At the close of the half, Foss made two free throws, then came up with a steal and a layup for a 39-31 DePaul lead at intermission.

She scored NIU's first two baskets of the second half, but that only cut the lead to 12.

Cindy Conner, who scored 23 points, scored NIU's next eight points.

NIU cut the lead to four on a basket but Foss. But a string of four turnovers and a miss stymied the NIU offense for three minutes, and DePaul built up a 14-point lead.

The Huskies sent DePaul to the free-throw line in the final few seconds, and Shaky Smith made four of five.

Foss fouled out with 6.3 seconds left. She stood next to the scorer's table, realizing she may have played her last home game. She received a hug from Albright, recognizing five years of effort. NIU, 23-6, 12-1 in the North Star Conference, competes in the conference tournament this weekend in Green Bay, hoping for a repeat of last year's trip to the NCAA tournament.

"NIU belongs in the NCAA tournament.

They have done everything the committee has asked them to do. They've had an exceptional schedule and gotten some good wins. I thought all week long they belong in the tournament," Bruno said.

And a family from Lake Zurich would second that feeling.

Why do I get so afraid? The treatment of panic attacks and panic disorders

March 13, 1991 7-8 p.m.

Presented by:

Robert Baker, M.D.

Staff Psychiatrist, Saint Therese Medical Center

Anyone who has experienced panic attacks knows the classic signs and symptoms: rapid heart rate, shortness of breath, cold and sweaty palms, dry mouth, muscle tension and a feeling of impending doom. In short, they are extremely uncomfortable episodes of acute anxiety. Many people who experience panic attacks are reluctant to seek help, either out of embarrassment or out of fear that treatment cannot help. But there are several approaches to the treatment of these disorders that have proven to be very effective. This presentation will review the forms of treatment available and help inform participants when and how to seek help.

Sharpshooting Illg wins most valuable player nod

By the end of the Thanksgiving tournament, opponents knew he would be one of Round Lake's biggest weapons.

Whether it be from the baseline extended or closer to the top of the key, one could usually find Wally Illg waiting for the pass, just outside the three-point marker. Illg connected on 73 of them in the 1990-91 season, and scored 13.5 points a game. The NWSC has awarded those efforts as it has named Illg its most valuable player.

"He had a few more opportunities and we did a better job of getting him the ball. He was a good all-around player - he was very unselfish," Round Lake Coach Bob Ward said.

The Panthers placed four players - three seniors and a junior - on the all NWSC team, the most in Panther history. Round Lake claimed the conference title with a perfect 14-0 record. Illg and Dave Burton were unanimous selections.

"He was one of our leaders and was real good on the defensive boards," Ward said of Burton, also a senior.

Burton, 6-3, finished second in the conference in rebounding to Wauconda's Scott Suhr.

Suhr, a 6-5 senior, sparked the Bulldogs to a respectable 9-17 year, 4-10 in the NWSC.

Also on the unanimous selection list were Steve Knipp, a 5-7 guard from Lake Zurich and Jim Silva of Grayslake. Both are seniors.

Garrett Horn, a senior, and Pat Lejman, the only junior on the team, were also named to the team. "Pat was our most improved player," Ward said. Horn had 8.5 assists a game.

"It is a tribute to the fact the kids played together as a team," Ward said of having four players named.

Also on the 12-player list was 6-2 senior Rick Twarowski of Grant.

Earning special mention honors were Mike Hermann and Erich Hoffmann of Johnsbury, Demain Vella and John Eiduke of Grant and Nate Roberts of Grayslake.

Regional tourney crown sweet for Rosberg, CHS

Some of the games were close, others not. But no matter what the talent level of Warren, the Blue Devils always managed to get the better of Carmel in the regional final contest.

But thanks to the new seeding system, Carmel, seeded fifth, did not have to face Warren and instead came away with its first regional title in four years, a 57-53 win over Waukegan. The win gave the Corsairs, 15-11, a shot at the tourney's top seed, Stevenson.

"It was pretty sweet. Those three losses in the title game hurt personally, but the kids really preserved and showed pose at the end. That was the deciding factor," Carmel Coach Scott Rosberg said.

And 23 points from junior forward Pete Eisenbarth did not hurt, either. The effort was a season high as Eisenbarth has raised his points-per-game to 11.

"He did a lot of other things well. We got a lot of points off offensive rebounds and assists. He was in the right place at the right time," Rosberg said of Eisenbarth.

Carmel had other weapons to throw at the Bulldogs, though, too.

Guard Dan Gramm "played the best game of his career at Carmel, bar none," Rosberg said. Gramm scored 11 points, seven from the free-throw line. Kevin Ryan had 10 points and guard Chris Mohr had nine.

Carmel trailed 10-8 after one, but took a 23-19 lead at halftime.

Waukegan took the third quarter 15-11, only to see Carmel cling to leads late in the game.

Maiworm's strong finish bright spot for Lancers

When College of Lake County's early-season opponents reviewed the scouting report on the 1990-91 Lancers, they may not have spent much time talking about Steve Maiworm.

He was listed in the middle of the CLC roster and at 5-9, 175, the freshman guard may not have attracted much attention. But next year, Maiworm may be on the top of the agenda in the pre-game chalk talks.

"Maiworm has played very well. He has a lot more confidence," CLC Coach Bruce Smith said of the Grant High graduate.

CLC was eliminated from post-season play 68-55 by Moraine Valley to finish 7-22. Maiworm continued his strong late-season scoring with 11 points. Markus Zackery led CLC with 19 points and Ryan Coskey had 18, including eight-for-eight from the free-throw line.

CLC trailed just 25-20 at halftime and led in the second half. But Moraine then put together what amounted to a six-point play with a field goal and four free-throws off a foul and a technical foul to take the lead by one. Moraine Valley built that lead to 10 points and the closest CLC would come was six.

In the final two regular-season games, Maiworm scored 16 points against Waukegan. CLC fell to the Skyway Conference champs 87-77. Jeff Becker scored 15 points coming off the bench and Coskey had 16 with Zackery leading the team with 20.

CLC's last win of the season came in a non-conference contest against Shawnee. The Lancers prevailed in overtime 119-106 after coming back from a 15-point halftime deficit.

Alvin Horton had 25 points and 20 rebounds.

Maiworm had another strong game, with 20 points, 11 rebounds and four steals.

Grayslake AARP members hear from CUB

Public Utility officials are appointed to the Illinois Commerce Commission and rehired by the companies after they have served on the Commission. Then they obtained a court ruling that would overrule a law protecting homeowners from paying for electric utility construction costs until the electrical capacity was needed.

The telephone companies shift the total cost of advertising, lobbying, and aid-to-poor surcharges to all other telephone customers, thereby avoiding their own shouldering any of these costs.

These were among other things AARP members were told at their Feb. 25 meeting by Ann Irving of the Citizens Utility Board (CUB).

Chapter 2691 of AARP met Monday in the Community Room in Grayslake with 35 members present. Lee Browne again warned seniors to beware of letting home improvement or repair or so-called charity contractors into their homes. He also distributed information about funeral cost insurance policies. The group voted to nominate Florence McKay to the Lake County Council of Seniors Community Service Award. Hostesses for the March meeting will be Viola Pester, Olga Case, Edith Weichmann and Virginia Rodgers.

Ann Irving (CUB) also suggested that it might be better to elect members of the Illinois Commerce Commission rather than have them be appointed, because utility rates affect every household in the state.

AARP would like to remind all citizens over 50 years of age that they are invited to become members of local chapters. AARP's membership now total over 3.2 million nation-wide.

McPhee completes independent study

Amy McPhee, Antioch, has prepared a major independent study project at the College of Wooster, Ohio.

A sociology major, McPhee entitled her thesis "Are Child Sexual Abuse Prevention Programs in Elementary Schools Effective?—An Evaluation of Programs." She evaluated the concepts, terms and skills taught in child sexual abuse prevention programs based on the media used to present them and the developmental level that they are geared towards. Her analysis was then compared to a sample of teacher evaluations of the same programs.

McPhee, the daughter of Janet McPhee, Antioch, also served as a member of the Student Activities Board, the Wooster Volunteer Network Board and the Co-Chair for Hunger and Homelessness Week. She also served as a peer advisor for the Career Development and Placement Office and sociology department tutor.

Three on dean's list

Three Antioch students have been named to the dean's list at Augustana College, Rock Island, Ill., for the fall quarter. The following individuals earned a minimum 3.5 grade point average on a 4.0 scale:

Amy L. Graesser, a sophomore majoring in elementary education, is the daughter of Kenneth and Shirley Graesser.

Pamela R. Oldenburger, a sophomore majoring in mathematics and secondary education, is the daughter of Marvin J. and Sharon R. Oldenburger.

Angela J. Rauch, a freshman majoring in general studies, is the daughter of Howard and Rosalie Rauch.

Football great Graham to speak at Ryan banquet

Otto Graham

Otto Graham, a member of the National Football League Hall of Fame and arguably the greatest quarterback ever to play the game, will be the featured speaker

April 18 at the fourth annual Keith Ryan Scholarship Fund banquet at the Country Squire Restaurant in Grayslake.

Graham, an all-state performer at Waukegan High School and All-American in football and basketball at Northwestern Univ. led the Cleveland Browns to an unmatched 10 consecutive league championship games, four in the All-American Football Conference and six in the NFL. Cleveland won seven of those title games while compiling an overall record of 105 victories, 17 losses and 4 ties, a .849 winning percentage.

During that period from 1946 to 1955 Graham compiled impressive individual statistics, throwing for more than 23,000 yards and 175 touchdowns with a completion record of almost 54 percent.

Graham's varied athletic career also included playing a year of pro basketball with the Rochester Royals, coaching the Washington Redskins and College All-Stars and serving as athletic director at the U.S. Coast Guard Academy.

The benefit event is being held in memory of Ryan, a long-time Lake County area radio and television broadcaster who died of cancer in 1988.

As a result of previous Ryan fundraisers, for the past three years a $1,000 scholarship has been awarded to a student at the College of Lake County interested in pursuing a career in either print or broadcast journalism. This year's winner to be honored at the banquet is Colleen Paulsen, a 17-year-old freshman from Lake Villa.

Another feature of the evening will be induction into the Waukegan Sports Hall of Fame of two more persons who have contributed to the area athletic scene. Graham was the first inductee into the hall, sponsored by the Waukegan Lions Club, and Ryan the most recent.

In addition to Graham, a number of other past and present professional athletes will attend the banquet and be placed at tables of the guests.

Tickets for the prime rib dinner banquet, available at the CLC Foundation office on the Grayslake Campus, are $27.50 per person, two for $55 or $25 each for tables of eight to 10 people.

Desktop class offered at CLC

"Desktop Publishing with WordPerfect" (BSS 299) will be taught on an IBM PS/2 computer at the College of Lake County in March for eight weeks. Two sections of this introductory course will be offered: 10 a.m. to noon on Mondays beginning March 18 and 8 to 9:50 p.m. on Tuesdays beginning March 19 on the college's Grayslake campus, 19351 W. Washington St.

The tuition for the course is $33.10 per credit hour for in-district residents, plus $20 for lab fees. For information contact the business division, (708)223-6601, ext. 515.

Top Dog

to have won the Ken-L Ration Biskit Award with two different dogs.

"I am only as good a trainer as the dog at the end of my leash will let me be," said Brown.

Brown knew he had a winner in Bristol after about 13 to 14 months of training.

"Because I consider myself to be a very excellent dog trainer, I can see into the heart and soul of the dog," he said.

What he saw in Bristol was the heart and stamina to shine through the rigors of traveling the show circuit. In just one year, Brown estimates that more than 50,000 miles were logged throughout 22 states en route to the championship.

"The average dog couldn't handle the stress just from traveling," he said, "the dog just simply loses heart."

Without heart and drive, the animal cannot compete with the animation and grace necessary to earn the judges' favor. Just going through the motions of a series of exercises may get the job done, but without leaving an impression.

"This is strictly a brains competition," said Brown.

Intelligence together with drive are key considerations in obedience competition, in comparison with breed competitions which focus on appearance.

Brown has been competing with his dogs for the past 29 years. For 24 years, his dogs have been ranked in the top 10 in obedience in the U.S.

His love for the animals evolved into a full-time career 18-years ago, when he left his job as a journalist to devote himself to dog training. Prior to that, he had shuffled both pursuits for 8 years.

Brown estimates that he has trained more than 16,000 dogs. He has piloted dogs from eight different breeds to their conformation championships, owned five dogs with utility degrees and two with obedience trial championships, written two books on dog training and made instructional video tapes.
